In regard to the arrest of April 9, 1966, Lieutenant [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Sacramento Police Department, advised on April 18, 1966, that on April 9, 1966, the Subject and an individual named [redacted] were distributing anti-Vietnam literature on the grounds of the State Capitol and offered some to [redacted] a resident of Sacramento. [redacted] told the Subject and [redacted] that he had a son in Vietnam and called [redacted] and [redacted] "yellow bastards." [redacted] then told [redacted] that he was stupid to allow his son to enter the military, at which time [redacted] struck [redacted] in the face with his fist. When ALBERT stepped forward to defend [redacted] struck ALBERT in the face with his wrist. The arrest by the State Police followed immediately. U

On the night of April 12, 1966, a number of PLP members had attended a Vietnam Day Committee (VDC) demonstration in front of the Berkeley City Hall which had been broken up. A police officer stopped the group because he claimed he heard someone shout an obscene word, and he arbitrarily arrested one of the group. The rest of the PLP group demanded to know what right the officer had to arrest someone on mere suspicion. The officer whistled for aid, and fellow officers, apparently believing that their fellow officer was being attacked, began to drag the PLP members off, including STEWART ALBERT and [redacted] and were arrested. UCB campus during a day-long student demonstration. The article noted that the apparently spontaneous demonstration erupted in the Student Union building in protest over a Navy recruiting table being manned there by two Navy officers. The demonstrators protested that not only was the military recruiting allowed but that a student and non-student manning a draft information table had been ousted from the Student Union building. The article noted that six persons whom school officials believed responsible for the trouble were arrested including STEWART ALBERT. Three other students were arrested for interfering with officers in connection with these arrests. U

An article in the January 13, 1967, edition of the "Daily Californian" noted that the six non-students who were arrested on November 30, 1966, on the campus at UCB had announced that they are violating an order to to comment on their court case to the press. U

The article noted that Berkeley Municipal Court Judge GEORGE BRUNN had imposed a "gag rule" on December 16, 1966, in order that the defendants could receive a fair trial. The six defendants were planning to break the order because they claimed it would deny them a fair trial. U

The January 27, 1967, issue of the "Daily Californian" noted that the Subject and three other defendants have been charged with contempt of court for deliberately violating a court order forbidding them to discuss their recent trial. U

The "Daily Californian" is a campus newspaper published by the Associated Students of the UCB. U

On August 26, 1968, [redacted] Office of the Clerk of Court, Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court, Berkeley, advised as follows: U

STEWART ALBERT was one of six persons arrested on the campus of the UCB on November 30, 1966. He was charged with violation of Section 373 and 602L of the Penal Code of the State of California. At a jury trial held in January, U

1967, he was found guilty of violation of Section 372 Penal Code (maintaining a public nuisance). The jury was unable to decide guilt or innocence on the charge of violation of Section 602L (trespassing). U

For conviction of violation of Section 372 ALBERT was sentenced to 60 days in jail with five days suspended and fined $330.00 with $10.00 suspended. An appeal of this conviction was filed and the appeal papers were sent to Superior Court for the County of Alameda on January 24, 1967. U

On July 24, 1967, the charge of trespass was dismissed at the request of the District Attorney. U

On January 14, 1967, a criminal contempt complaint was filed against ALBERT and others for violating an order issued by the Judge who presided over the trial for trespass and maintaining a public nuisance. U

The contempt citation was appealed, and remains on appeal. On November 27, 1967, the court continued this matter until thirty days after a decision is rendered by the District Court of Appeals. U

On April 22, 1969, [REDACTED] was recontacted. She advised that the criminal contempt case is still on appeal to the District Court of Appeals. She advised, however, that the Superior Court has upheld ALBERT's conviction of violation of Section 372. This case is docketed for May 9, 1969, at 1:30 p.m., at which time ALBERT is scheduled to appear for execution of the sentence. U

U. S. Commissioner's Docket No. 597, Alexandria, Virginia, contains the following information: U

STEWART ALBERT, born December 4, 1939, and furnishing a home address of 13 E. 3rd Street, New York City, was arrested by U. S. Marshals at the mall entrance to the Pentagon at 12:20 a.m. on October 23, 1967. He was charged with "refusing to leave." For this offense ALBERT received a $25.00 fine, a 15-day suspended jail sentence, and six months probation. U

Subject was arrested with this group. He was arrested under IR No. 213339, charged with disorderly conduct. U

On December 2, 1968, Sergeant [redacted] Chicago Police Department, advised that ALBERT's case was to be heard in Branch 47, Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, on October 21, 1968. Sergeant [redacted] stated that because this offense is a misdemeanor, ALBERT will not be arrested outside the State of Illinois. U

b6

Officer [redacted] UCB Police Department, has furnished the following background information concerning the events leading up to the arrest of ALBERT on October 24, 1968: U

The Academic Senate at UCB in the past created a Board of Educational Development (BED) to encourage and provide for more student participation in course structuring at UCB. A Center for Participant Education (CPE) was created which offered experimental courses beginning in the Fall Quarter, 1968. Sixteen of these courses were offered for regular credit. One of these sixteen courses was entitled "Dehumanization and Regeneration in the American Social Order." This course was described as "Social Analysis 139X." U

During September, 1968, CPE announced that ten of the scheduled twenty lectures of 139X would be delivered by LEROY ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, who is publicly known as the Minister of Information of the Black Panther Party (BPP), and who has served time in a California penitentiary for conviction of the crime of rape. This announcement raised a great controversy throughout the State of California. As a result, the University of California Regents, at a meeting on September 20, established a rule that guest lecturers (such as CLEAVER in this case) would be limited to one U appearance per quarter in the classroom. U

The Regents' decision angered some of the "activist" students on the UCB campus. In protest of this decision by the Regents, a generally peaceful sit-in was held on the afternoon and evening of October 22, 1968, in Sproul Hall on the UCB campus. This sit-in was spearheaded by student CPE leaders. Between the hours of approximately 10:30 p.m. and midnight, these persons sitting in were arrested and taken from the building. (ALBERT was not present at this sit-in.) U

The next day, the controversy continued on the campus. Demonstrators began short, sporadic occupations of campus buildings. At approximately 3:00 p.m. demonstrators began to converge on Moses Hall, a UCB campus building which houses many offices in the Department of Letters and Science. Demonstrators entered Moses Hall and began to barricade themselves in it. They remained all night, until ejected and arrested at 6:00 a.m. October 24, 1968, by police authorities. During these arrests, the police had to dismantle barricades, and dodge flying objects thrown from within Moses Hall. Three of the arresting officers received minor injuries. One of the 76 persons ejected and arrested was STEWART ALBERT. U

A characterization of the BPP is contained in the appendix attached hereto. U

The records of the Berkeley, California, Police Department reflect that ALBERT was charged with violation of Section 415 Penal Code (disturbing the peace), 602 J (trespass) and 594 (malicious mischief). He made bail of $1,650 on the same day. U

On April 17, 1969, the records of the Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court (BAMC) regarding this arrest were reviewed by IC [REDACTED] The following was noted: ALBERT was tried in BAMC by jury, and on February 19, 1969, he was found not guilty of violation of Section 594 Penal Code and guilty of violation of Section 415 Penal Code. U

The jury was unable to reach an agreement regarding his guilt or innocence on the charge of violation of Section 602J Penal Code. U

On March 13, 1969, ALBERT was sentenced to serve thirty days in the County Jail, and to pay a fine of $250.00 for his conviction on the charge of disturbing the peace. In lieu of the $250.00 fine, ALBERT will be allowed to serve one additional day in jail for each $5.00 of the fine which is not paid. On March 18, 1969, a notice of appeal was filed in ALBERT's behalf. An appeal bond was posted, and ALBERT remains free on this bond. No date has been set for a new trial on the charge of violation of Section 602J Penal Code. U

Regarding the arrest of ALBERT on February 21, 1969, on April 21, 1969, Sergeant [REDACTED] UCB Police Department, furnished the following information: U b6 b7C

On January 22, 1969, a "student strike" was called against the UCB by a group of dissident students. The strike was spearheaded by an organization known as the Third World Liberation Front (TWLF). The TWLF publicly made certain demands of the UCB administration, principally regarding the establishment of a college of ethnic studies at UCB. The strikers vowed not to return to classes until their demands were met. U

Almost immediately the strike action resulted in violence on the campus. Striking students, assisted by non-students, blocked entrances to the campus and prevented, by force, persons from crossing the picket lines. UCB police, assisted by law enforcement officers from other agencies (requested under a mutual aid pact) were used to quell disturbances and restore order on and near the picket lines. U

On many occasions, police were attacked with rocks, cherry bombs, broken glass, and other weapons. Injuries ensued to both strikers and police and considerable property damage was done on the campus. U

THIRD WORLD LIBERATION FRONT

The Third World Liberation Front (TWLF) is a coalition of non-white student groups, namely Black, Chicano (Mexican-American), Filipino, Chinese, and Japanese. U

A member of the TWLF was quoted as saying, "The first world is the capitalist world, the second world is the Communist white world, and the third world is the non-white world composed of people from Asia, Africa, and Latin America. The first two worlds suppress the non-white people whether in or out of their own countries. We do not distinguish on national lines. We do not relate to countries because by and large they do not represent people." U

TWLF self-described itself as "It opposed the oppressive enslavery and colonialist system in the United States and it was dedicated to preparing for a prolonged struggle for freedom in Asia, Africa, and Latin America as well as the United States." U

TWLF stated its purpose is to initiate discussion and develop programs pertinent to the needs of third world (non-white) students; to aid further in developing politically, economically, and culturally the revolutionary "Third World" consciousness of racist-oppressed people; we recognize the struggles for freedom of non-white peoples around the world as a positive part of our educational processes. TORONTO MAILREBELS FIGHTING
WINTER COLD BUT IT'S COLDER HERE

By Stew Albert

Toronto is a constipated mountie sitting on a horse in front of a snowed-in government building and the Beatles' audience sitting silently in the midst of a yellow submarine.

In Toronto the night comes early and even the queers aren't gay.

I arrived here on a vacation to escape the warm sun and friendships of Berkeley. Life is too easy in that Mediterranean city and it is impossible to understand why the rest of America is so fucked up.

Living in Canada is a great way to understand the control system of American subways and universities. This country is so much more uptight than the States and yet so similar that even a sociologist would have little difficulty understanding it.

Toronto is not a street city. It freezes over, and what exists of the hip scene in an area known as Yorkville, collapses into the fragmented existence of rundown prison box housing. Everybody driven into frozen isolation and linearity becomes almost a climatological necessity.

The struggle against the winter is the struggle for life. A small army of rebels is attempting to fight it out by grouping the forces together in an eighteen story building known as Rochdale College.

It is a living and learning co-op where you sleep, eat and take free university type courses. The bread was loaned by establishment sources and if things get a little too freaky they may take control and rent only to hockey players and divinity students. About eight hundred fifty people are trying to make a go of it.

You have to put up about one hundred dollars a month and take some responsibilities for holding the skyscraper-cash pad together. All kinds of yipple type hustlers hang around picking up chicks, bumming bread, sitting in on classes and sleeping in the lounge.

The attitude of the hippies in residence to the Lumpen wanderers is one of agonized tolerance. Even a co-op can be a front for "no trespassing" signs and measuring people by how much money their parents give them. If the Rochdale people can relate to the vagrance, their own internal ice may begin to melt even though it is a ten degree above zero Christmas.

The Rochdale Building is grey and straight but the inside is slowly being colored and curved. The residents must hold off the bankers, the always snooping pigs, and repay the debt, while finding beds for the hustlers to hide in or under. If this happens Rochdale will become a dropout capital for that part of Northern America whose winter sun is too distant to melt anything.

There are thousands of American draft dodgers in Toronto. At least half of them take the respectability trip and desire nothing more than to be good bourgeois citizens of Canada.

For the others, caution is a prominent necessity. The grass is is of quality and highly illegal with stiff prison sentences. Or, if you are lucky, deportation.

If you have any romanticized illusions about the Royal Canadian Mounted Pigs, they operate with a Fascist thoroughness that can make the FBI seem superficial. During the 1930's depression there was no great rash of bank robberies by the poor. Sgt. Preston would have had our heroes out-gunned and out-organized.

A. Bay Area Progressive Labor Party (BAPLP)

The "Berkeley Barb" for January 31-February 7, 1969, contained an article on page nine entitled "I Was a Male Cracker" under the byline "Stew Albert." U

The topic of the article is male chauvinism. The first sentence of the second paragraph of the story is: "I first heard the term male chauvinism when I was in the Progressive Labor Party." U

A demonstration was held in San Francisco, California, on March 26, 1966, at the Civic Center Plaza, in connection with a protest concerning U. S. involvement in the war in Vietnam. Among those present was STEWART ALBERT, who tended a table at which PLP literature was sold. During the demonstration, ALBERT attempted to get some other PLP members to challenge members of the American Nazi Party, who were harrassing the demonstrators. ALBERT also became involved in an argument with another individual and was overheard to state that the PLP was opposed to the Communist Party (CP) and that the CP were not revolutionists, and the PLP is the only revolutionary party. U

An article in the November 13, 1966 issue of the "San Francisco Examiner" noted that the Subject was one of three individuals organizing a protest demonstration at the appearance of IGOR ROGOCHEV, First Secretary of the International Relations Division of the Soviet Embassy. ROGOCHEV was scheduled to speak at the University of California, Berkeley, on the effects of cultural exchange programs on the international scene. The Subject was quoted in the newspaper article as saying that Russia's apparent willingness to enter into new cooperative agreements with the U. S. at this time is a betrayal of the North Vietnam government and for this reason a demonstration was being organized against ROGOCHEV.

The "Daily Californian" issue of November 15, 1966 noted that members of the SDS had picketed IGOR ROGOCHEV at UCB and that they in turn were picketed by other members of SDS, who claimed that STEWART ALBERT and his group represented only a minority within the SDS.

The article noted that the group picketing ROGOCHEV called itself the Foreign Affairs Committee of SDS, but an official statement of the SDS Steering Committee noted that the picketing was in no way approved or sponsored by the SDS.

D. National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC)

The NMC was originated at a conference in Cleveland, Ohio, in November, 1966, for the specific purpose of holding massive anti-war demonstrations in New York City and in San Francisco on April 15, 1967. The organization was first titled as the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (SMC). Its first Chairman was the noted late pacifist A.J. MUSTE. The founding convention urged all persons interested in the anti-war movement to converge on either San Francisco or New York City on April 15, 1967, to participate in mass marches and rallies protesting United States intervention in Vietnam. East Coast and West Coast headquarters for the SMC were established in New York and San Francisco. The above demonstrations were held. The SMC, however, remained active. Eventually it evolved U into the NMC.

On August 6, 1967, a West Coast conference of the NMC was held in San Francisco, California. STEWART ALBERT was present at this conference. Among the items discussed was a "Peace Torch Marathon." The Peace Torch Marathon was a plan whereby a torch first lighted in Japan (the only U nation which has undergone atomic attack) would be transported to the United States by air and then carried by vehicle or runners from the West Coast to Washington, D.C. STEWART ALBERT had been one of the approximately six persons planning the Peace Torch Marathon. After much debate ALBERT was excluded from this staff. U

[] has previously advised that ALBERT's exclusion from the Peach Torch Marathon Planning Committee was the result of a fight for control of this committee within the SMC. The battleline was generally drawn between Communist Party (CP) elements and their friends on the one hand and elements of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) on the other hand. The CP people gained control of the Peace Torch planning and then excluded the non-CP members and adherents from the committee. U

On September 16, 1967, the Administrative Committee of the NMC, held a meeting at Academy Hall, New York City. According to the minutes of this meeting, STEWART ALBERT was among those present. The entire meeting was devoted to planning for the October 21-22 action at the Pentagon in Virginia. The plan for October 21 is generally to march to the Pentagon with as many people as possible from staging areas in Washington, D.C. At the Pentagon a rally with noted speakers would be held. Later civil disobedience would ensue. This would take the form of blocking the entrances to the Pentagon on all five sides, thereby preventing people from entering the Pentagon to work. U

He stated that ALBERT shouted this phrase as loud as anyone. He stated this continued until almost everyone was out of the park. U

He said that the group he was with upon leaving the park, which group included ALBERT, proceeded west on Armitage Avenue until they reached the intersection of Cleveland, where the group, including ALBERT, started throwing objects at a Chicago city bus. He stated that the group eventually arrived at a house, located one block west of Cleveland on Armitage, where one or more members of the group allegedly was staying and sat on the porch where they watched the police who had subsequently arrived, evidently in response to the attack on the bus, to clear the streets. U

[] stated that on August 28, 1968, he was in Grant Park with a group which included STU ALBERT and just after the police moved in to arrest individuals who had attempted to lower the American flag and put up a red flag a melee broke out. He stated that ALBERT and others were yelling, "Kill the pigs," as the police moved in. [redacted] then placed seven of these individuals who appeared to be involved in the "pig" incident, under arrest. These seven individuals were transported to the Chicago Police Department Central Detention, 1121 South State Street, where [redacted] completed the arrest slips on all seven. ✓

[redacted] advised STEWART ALBERT was among the individuals arrested in connection with this incident. ✓

ALBERT was interviewed at his residence in Berkeley on October 28, 1968, by Special Agents of the FBI. This interview was in connection with ALBERT's activities in Chicago during the 1968 Democratic National Convention. A portion of the results of that interview are set forth as follows: ✓

to Chicago in August, 1968, for the purpose of participating in a demonstration to protest what he and the "Yippies" considered to be the nomination of a candidate at the Democratic National Convention who would carry on policies of the present administration, specifically that dealing with the Vietnam War. ✓

He stated that he had not entered into any plan to disrupt the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, primarily because he felt that it could not be done with the great number of police and National Guard which he knew would be present to discourage such a thing. He said that inasmuch as the ideological hero of the "Yippies" is GROUCHO MARX of Marx Brothers fame instead of KARL MARX, it was his idea to stage a spectacular demonstration based on the theme of "A Night at the Opera", a Marx Brothers production. ✓

ALBERT said he had no personal part in any riot or violence and could furnish no information in that regard. He said that although he had been struck by someone whom he assumed was a policeman, he did not attempt to strike back and did not throw any objects. According to ALBERT, his arrest by the Chicago police came about when he and several others were carrying a live pig into the demonstration. ✓

ALBERT reiterated that at no time in New York prior to his departure for Chicago, or in Chicago prior to or during the Democratic National Convention, did he plan or advocate riot, violence or disruption of the Democratic National Convention. ✓

"THE FOG IS RED"

by Stu Albert

CHICAGO (3 AM Thurs Aug. 22, by phone) — Chicago tonite reeks of teargas. It is an ugly gasping fog and it is being inhaled by the entire City.

There is rioting in the streets.

Shop windows are being shattered. Fires are being started. The major sections of midtown Chicago have been in the mobile hands of the new revolutionary people of the street.

The National Guard has been called up and Mayor Daley's Chicago pig force are running amuck.

The Yippies have asked for UN observers to be sent to Chicago to investigate this latest trampling upon human rights.

I have spent most of my time in Lincoln Park and in the streets. The park is seven miles from the Amphitheater where the Democrats curse and tear at each others throats.

The park was supposed to be where the Yippies would hold their Festival of Life, rejoicing and making love. Now, because Mayor Daley denied us a permit to sleep in the park, Yippie nights are spent in the streets taking on the cops on a block-to-block basis.

The human composition of Lincoln Park during the day is the "what's happening" of the revolution.

There are the usual middle-class dropouts, but they have been joined by the working class dropouts of the motorcycle gangs, by the black and Puerto Rican dropouts from the Mother country.

They have been joined by the press (who have had their asses beaten like the rest of us) and by Catholic priests (who have been teargassed like the rest of us).

They have been joined by striking black bus drivers wearing Free Huey buttons and by those soldiers at Ft. Hood who would not come to Chicago to beat and kill their brothers.

On Tuesday in the park there was a huge wooden cross, NLF flags, red flags, black flags, Yippie flags. The tear gas drove this symbolic diversity into the streets and into revolutionary brotherhood.

If Daley and the Democrats had been smart, they would have given the park to the Yippies and allowed a march to the Amphitheater. But the triumphant mood in the backrooms of hack politics is fascism.

They denied us everything and in doing that they pulled us together. Maybe they thought we'd fold up and go home. I guess they had the same opinion of long-hairs as some of the left wing groupings in Berkeley.

Perhaps Daley had the image of the apolitical love-generation hippy who offered America a flower and sixty minutes of cuteness on a TV special.

But we've all been beaten on the heads a little too much. We decided to stay and fight, and when we did we were joined by the others who have been beaten on the head too much. The forces were joined, and the battle began.

The motorcycle gangs were dubious of this kind of alliance at first, dubious of the willingness of the children of the suburbs to fight cops; but when the point was proved the new brotherhood was formed. They came to fight for the park in the streets.

We were told that the Blackstone Rangers (an organization of black streetfighters -- ed.) were being paid off by the Mayor to drive us out of town. But I stood next to a Ranger speaking from a microphone in the park, and he said that in this battle there were no separations and that the thing to do was to make a revolution.

The Chicago fuzz have an international reputation of sleek, brutal piggery, but what the people have seen in Chicago has blown their minds, and they are scared.

When they see motorcycle gangs doing security for Bobby Seale while he speaks, or bodyguarding Jerry Rubin day and night, they must realize that the balance of forces is undergoing changes.

When we first arrived in Chicago the pigs put 24-hour tails on the Yippie leadership and boasted to the press that everything was under control. They followed us wherever we went, into restaurants and into theatres. They saw to it that our phone service was disconnected and they blocked us from going to meetings in hotel rooms.

But when we started fighting back the mood changed. At one conference in the park a plainclothesman crawled on the back of the head of a white man. And the next day one of Rubin's tails made a big point of telling me that he didn't do it.

Seven of us spent the day in jail for bringing a 200 pound pig into the center of Chicago and calling for his nomination by the Democrat Party. If Americans have unconsciously chosen to be ruled by pigs, they should be awakened and made to see what their leaders really look like. That time the cops were positively sweet to us and intimated they were for Wallace only because he is an honest man.

You get the feeling it has dawned on them that they must be working for us someday and that they are interested in protecting their pensions.

It's been very rough. One kid was killed when he was stopped on the street for a curfew violation. The pigs claim he had a gun but they have not yet come up with it. My six stitches came soon after that, and then as our revolutionary gangs began to move around town the cops really began to escalate.

Hundreds of young people have been arrested and there has been a special concentration on the most radical of the leadership. Tom Hayden has been arrested three times and beaten up in the station. Rennie Davis has had his head cracked open.

Jerry Rubin has been busted twice and at this writing is still in jail. Wolf Lowenthal, a kind of all-around bodyguard and bringer together of the gang, has been arrested three times and brutally beaten.

Marvin Garson, a visiting journalist from San Francisco, had four stitches put into his head and a charge of aggravated assault laid on him.

The cops have suffered their casualties too. They have had their cars and their faces smashed by bottles and rocks. Estimates are that between 50 and 70 police cars have been put out of commission, and on several occasions the police have been caught in their own tear gas.

I have never felt the essence of American power as I have on those nights leaving Lincoln Park at midnight. Seeing the gas floating up into the sky and the distorted, masked faces of the police moving through it. Following, as if it was a guru in hell, an electronic monster armored car moving slowly forward with the same contempt that advanced disease has for its victims.

There has been very little rock music in the park. The Miss Yippie contest has been cancelled, as well as Paul Krassner's Pin the Contraceptive on the Pope game. Ed Sanders of the Fugs said music somehow wasn't appropriate, and Joe McDonald of the Fish, whose nose was broken in the hotel lobby, left town.

The Yippies have shown themselves to be a two-edged sword. They can lure children away from the mediocrity of suburban supermarkets and graveyards by showing through their own groovy actions the possibility of another and more exciting form of life. Rock music and the dadaist puton is at the center of this approach.

But Chicago has shown that there is another side to this Yippie madness. We have cultivated our courage, we can fight, we can be tough, and we can talk to workers better than any old Marxist owl ever met on the Cal terrace.

Berkeleyans know a lot about the Yippies media games, but about their clenched fists they know very little.

In next week's issue of the BARR, I want to go into the significance of this for the American revolution. I have learned much from Chicago that I never heard out of the mouth of a Hal Draper or a Pete Camejo.

I have always believed as a matter of DIALECTICAL faith that there would be a revolution in America.

Here in Chicago I know there will be a revolution; because it has begun and I am in the red and black center of it.

" CHICAGO RETROSPECTIVE "

by Stewart Albert

In Chicago, teargas was a very democratic experience. On the last two nights, it impartially choked throats of Yippies, Women for Peace, TV cameramen, and even some delegates to the Democratic Convention.

The moderate forces tried to lead orderly marches on the sidewalk policed by monitors who must have taken a semester of piggery at some academy. Dick Gregory made an appearance, as did Eugene McCarthy, but it served for nothing.

Richard Daley saw every demonstrator in Chicago as Ho Chi Minh with a reefer in his mouth, out to rape his daughter.

The marches were broken up by teargas, rifle-butts (the National Guard occasionally joining the pigs), and nightsticks. We all went back into the streets, breaking store windows, throwing rocks at cops and tossing garbage.

The action centered around the heavily guarded Hilton Hotel, in which the delegates hoped to avoid any contact with Chicago.

It did not work. The teargas seeped through the airconditioning and even Hubert Humphrey got sick and had to take a bath.

The teargas scenes were grotesque -- people running, vomiting, burning, choking and praying for some decency that it all stop.

Chicago was a revolutionary wet-dream come true. One night, a thousand longhairs joined at the picket-line of striking black bus-drivers. On the following night, striking cab-drivers left a picket-line to join the march on the Amphitheatre. The white working-class motorcycle gangs did not do the Oakland Border VDC thing; they were either free neutrals or with us in Lincoln Park.

What happened that week was the prototypical formation of the alliance necessary to bring the man down and keep him down. It all happened without a single leaflet being given to anyone and without a single white missionary getting a factory job.

This wasn't the way I was told it would happen. The catechism of orthodox American Leninism is to shave off your beard, get a haircut and stop smoking pot. A revolutionary act is to give leaflets to dockworkers.

The Progressive Labor Party, for example, sends its best people into factories and they recruit a couple of new members each year -- and we are the dropout freaks doing everything we were not supposed to do, out on the same rock-throwing things as the workers, and not a single Freddy in sight.

We must realize that the fragmentation dumb-dumbs of repression fired at us in Chicago finally exploded in the paycheck prisons of nine-to-five average America.

The best way we can push the workers into revolution is not by sharing in their factory slavery, but by creating our own liberated communities in every major city.

We will constantly confront the man in the battle for the street, parks and living space needed for us to humanize in. Occasionally we must interrupt the pigs' highest ceremonies by dumping a huge pile of shit on their best rug.

We did this in Chicago, and maybe we can follow it up at Richard Nixon's inauguration. It is nothing like going into the man's churches on his high holy days barefooted and smelly, to make him fire his Madison Avenue front group and show off his southern sheriff soul to NBC.

It is by our example of rebellion that we will steer the workers into realizing their own dreams. We won't do it by collapsing before the mediocratic cleanshaven alcoholic conformities and telling the proles to read this after they have read that.

We found out in Chicago that the military man of imperialism might have at least one clay foot. There were 43 soldiers at Fort Hood who refused to come to Chicago. The National Guard obeyed orders, but they had faces and not pig-snouts. We went up and down the line telling them not to let their officers kick them around and to behave with more humanity than the Russians did in Prague. The reaction was one of embarrassed presence and rationalization. There were few true believers in the crowd.

At first, our own reaction was one of terror and frenzied running. Then a more confident move-just-as-far-back-as-you-have-to walk, and finally the discovery that tear gas canisters could be hurled back and a cop-car taken out of action if enough people surrounded it. A lot of manhood emerged in Chicago, and for that we must be ironically grateful to the Democratic party.

Our revolution is going to be a chaotic, funky mud type of thing, not fitting any Germanic isms of somebody else's historical necessity. It is being made in the streets right now. On its appearance, you laugh with joy at its absolute originality.

In Chicago, it was a street-tough with a swastika tattooed on his arm, waving an NLF flag and giving skin to a Blackstone Ranger who had just called for the overthrow of the government. It was a Cleveland suit-and-tie sociologist belting out a pig.

It was a bloodied NBC photographer telling us the National Guard was coming and where there were rocks to throw at them. It was bearded OM-ing hippies breaking windows of scabbing buses.

And finally, it was a busload of ten-year-old black children exchanging revolutionary fists and victory signs with me, and the proud look on the face of an on-looking, and then saluting, black woman.

Our revolution is a movable feast. You can sup of it wherever you make your scene. All it takes is the guts to be free.

for babbitt's ass

by Stew Albert

The shit has come down. All my friends are either under indictment, on appeal or in jail. We have been getting away with anarchy and we are now facing the fact that the Babbitts are pissed off and they are out for our romantic ass.

On November 27, Eldridge Cleaver is supposed to put his soul back on ice and voluntarily turn himself over to the smelly graces of the California Prison System.

Jerry Rubin has been confined to the deadly boredom of Illinois until his trial. He has received word that Mayor Daley has given the order that he must go to the penitentiary for five years. The charge is "solicitation to riot."

The Oakland Seven, after having a deal fall through because of pressure from the DA's office, will soon be facing a jury of Oakland Tribune readers.

In New York, Abbie Hoffman, who was caught with a pen knife and charged with possession of a deadly weapon, is confined by bail to the borough of Manhattan.

All around us the spying, phone tapping, mail reading FBI is in Berkeley wanting to know if Karl or Groucho Marx founded the Yippies.

The repression is against a whole generation of existentialists who had nothing to look up to but their own decency. We found ourselves as children in an international slaughterhouse and we moved against the butchers.

In America, political prisoners have records that make them seem like long-term sex offenders. They bust us for loitering around schoolhouses, vagrancy and solicitation. New anti-loitering laws have been passed in an attempt to make it impossible to sell underground newspapers on the street.

The pigs will now use conspiracy as a way of ripping us off. Anything we may ever say might show up as evidence that we were in on the assassination of Lincoln. All revolutionary speech will find itself subject to prosecution and Marxism will have to hide out in some graduate student's doctoral thesis.

It doesn't have to happen. This isn't the 1950's when the whole radical movement was collapsing in respectable disillusionment. You could scare a guy then by threatening to take his job away.

It's different now. American children, black and white, are burning the last will and testament of their fathers' fears and threats and moving into the streets of freedom. It is not a Political Party that the tight asses will confront, but a whole new nation coming to birth out of Lady Bird's sick womb.

The high schools are uncontrollable, Che Guevara is 13 years old and he has stopped doing homework.

You can find him smoking pot in the lunchroom. Why don't you ask him if he can relate to the fascist microcosm of brainwashing the Board of Education is trying to process through his brain?

Those who are on the line right now should look over their shoulders at the army that is being formed in the youth-full mountains of the mind.

We are fighting a holding action, against the Emperors of the barnyard. It is necessary to tie them down while the New America takes rifle practice.

Our tactics must be based on ferocious absurdity. No institution must be left in order. The Schools, Churches, and motherhood will have the sanctity of a burlesque comedian.

We must have a fox's head and a lion's body. It is our duty to drive the devils mad; our kid brothers will destroy them.

PANTHERS, YIPPIESSHOOT UP OAKLAND HILLS

by Stew Albert

Somewhere in the Oakland Hills, Panthers and pigs were facing each other eye to eye, and guns were blazing.

This is what they told us. Our orders were to begin a second front and make the pigs divide their forces.

We were under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Kathleen Cleaver. This was the first time armed Panthers and Yippies had joined together for a military action under a common command.

When we arrived on the scene, the pigs were in flight. A band of twenty Panthers under the direction of George Murray had taken control of the terrain.

The victory was short lived, because exactly one hour before it was supposed to happen, they closed the Chabot Gun Club.

It was Sunday, November 24, and the Black Panthers and some of their white friends were taking target practice. It was really a beautiful sight, to see a citadel of right wing power and madness, a gun club, taken over by the street dreams of Berkeley and Oakland.

The Chabot Gun Club is regularly attended by the freaked-in lunatics of the anal power trip. The police pigs of the area go up there to try out their 357 Magnum six-guns and dream they are shooting at Huey.

There is also an assortment of Minute-Man arrogance, Bircher paranoia, scared virgin housewives, and skinny sexless men in search of a hardon.

To go up to the gun club is to enter the nightmare of the absolute enemy. You must see the pig in dress rehearsal to know how lethal and pathetic his theater of fascist cruelty is going to be.

The piece movement in America is almost totally dominated by the right wing. Check out the gun stores along San Pablo; you will find that they will not only sell you a shotgun but will give you pamphlets which will tell you in what direction to point it.

Things changed when the Blacks and Chicanos stopped turning the other cheek. On a weekend at the rifle range, there now is always a scattering of black and brown power.

I'm sure that gumbo and I were the first longhairs to apply for membership in the Chabot Gun Club. Anyone can go up to the range for target practice, but it costs a buck seventy-five a session, so it pays to join the club and shoot at a fraction of the price.

We won a degree of joke-swapping token acceptance until an article attacking the Yippies for their erection day plans, and mentioning my name, was posted on the bulletin board of the Club. A few days later, we received a letter of expulsion and since then, whenever I go to the range, I begin to feel like someone might want to use me as a target.

To have been there in that late Sunday afternoon, and see the Panthers in the majority, their guns blazing, heavy shit, AR15's, 30-06's, and 12-gauge shotguns, and to see the pigs so scared they had to close down for the day, was to get the slightest glimpse of how joyous it would be to retire forcibly at gunpoint Richard Nixon and his entire pig empire.

Guns are ugly. It is a sign of our barbarity that we use a rationalized technology to produce the flesh-ripping efficiency of a semi-automatic pistol. But guns will be abolished when the system that has produced them has been overthrown by men and women who have taken up arms for this purpose.

It is a strange paradox. We will have to swim to our humanity through rivers of tragic blood. This fact is not something to relish, but to prepare for.

the finger

by Stew Albert

The Walker report on Chicago is liberal pluralistic jive.

It sees a variety of competing elements as responsible for the violence that took place during the Democratic National Convention. It sounds like a description of the mythic checks and balances that control the American economy.

The pigs and Mayor Daley were responsible for the violence. If they had given us a permit to sleep in Lincoln Park and to hold a march there would have been no violence.

Cursing out the pigs was a form of verbal self defense. The only time it happened was when the cops leaned on us with their clubs and tear gas.

You can't equate a stiff finger directed at a pig with a stiff billy club breaking open someone's head.

I think the whole thing might be a set up. If the Federal government comes down with indictments against the Yippies and the National Mobilization, they can make it all seem democratic by busting a few pigs to show they're against violence on both sides.

This report was put together by liberals, and they must be proud of their work. They have disassociated themselves from the fat ugly police that made Walter Cronkite cry over National Television, without in any way identifying themselves with the bloody anarchists of the streets.

We should not think that we have found new allies. Instead, our prosecutor has been provided with a liberal cover. He must be a very grateful man.

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUNTHE MAN THE PIGS COULDN'T

by Stew Albert for Eldridge

John Dillinger was the first White Panther.

He scared shit out of the bankers, pigs and the FBI. His gang roamed the Mid West ripping off police stations and banks! He was the man J. Edgar Hoover hated most.

Dillinger could have been a fucked over Indiana farmer struggling to keep his land out of the bankers hands. It was during the Depression. Dillinger decided the life of the bank robber was a hell of a lot better.

Most of his fellow townsmen agreed even if they didn't have the guts to take up the gun and join him. He could walk the streets of Moorsville, Indiana at the height of his career, and nobody would think of turning Johnny in.

We can learn a lot from the Dillinger gang's tactics. They supplied themselves with bullet proof vests and machine guns by breaking into Police Stations and putting the pigs up against the Wall.

There wasn't a pig pen that could hold either Dillinger or his gang brothers. They took turns springing each other. Many farmers would have been willing to wear "Free Johnny" buttons.

Dillinger's greatest moment was when he broke out of the Crown Point, Indiana Jail with a wooden gun. The National Guard surrounded the jail and planes flew overhead. The sheriff boasted that this was the end of the outlaw's career, but photographs taken of Dillinger in jail show that he knew the whole scene was a paper tiger.

His cellmate was Herbert Youngblood, a black man who liked to whittle. John borrowed his knife and carved out a wooden gun which he covered with shoe polish. Everybody fell for the riff, and Youngblood and Dillinger left town in the Sheriff's car.

The Dillinger gang was a model of participatory democracy. John was the leader by virtue of his style and courage. There were no bureaucratic structures and the relationships were voluntary. If anyone had to be kicked out of the gang it was a collective decision. Nobody was ever cheated out of his bread or offed for getting out of line. Contrary to ruling class bullshit, there was a high and beautiful honor among the Dillinger thieves.

We should never confuse the crime syndicates built out of prohibition with the outlaws who fought the bankers during the Depression. The syndicate was big business rob-the-poor capitalism. It bought its way into the establishment and sent its daughters to high class finishing schools. It bought off politicians the way Standard Oil did and invested in banks rather than robbing them.

The outlaws were anarchistic rebels fighting in self defense against everything big and ugly in the oppression that America's rulers called law and order. Men like Pretty Boy Floyd, Clyde Barrow and John Dillinger had contempt for the bureaucratic gunman of Chicago. They turned down offers to go to work for the mob.

It is an interesting fact of class justice that the syndicate has never been scratched and dominates many industries in America. All of the anarchists were hunted down and murdered in cold blood. The FBI put out a shoot on sight order for John Dillinger while Mafia executioners sipped cocktails with judges and businessmen in Miami Beach.

John Dillinger was trapped on at least three occasions by the FBI. In each case he shot his way out. For a period of months the Feds were looking like fools. A special Dillinger squad was created and dozens of agents worked full time to trap him. John was declared public enemy Number One with a ten thousand dollar reward on his head.

The outlaw had a lot of the public sympathy that Eldridge on the run now has. Many average Americans wrote letters to the editor demanding a pardon for Dillinger.

He was portrayed on Broadway and in the movies in the "Petrified Forest," as Duke Mantee. Humphrey Bogart built his career by imitating Dillinger who possessed in real life the existential courage and cleverness that Bogey went through the motions of on the screen.

Dillinger's end was inevitable. The odds against him were too great. He was denounced by FDR and all the Wealthy Press. The American Legion, National Guard, posses and police sallied from their stys looking for him. There is so much you can get away with as a loner and then the shit comes down.

The outlaw was betrayed by a screwed - up chick. A Rumanian who faced deportation and went to the pigs and squealed. The FBI agreed to a deal to let her stay in the country if she revealed John's whereabouts. The setup took place outside the Biograph Movie Theater in Chicago. The executioners ~~were waiting~~ outside.

The Lady with Dillinger was dressed in ~~an easily~~ spottable red. They cut him down cold, shot in the back without warning. To show their gratitude the "Lady in Red" was deported.

In his whole career John Dillinger was charged with killing one man, a pig, shot down in a gunbattle. He never was known to act in the cowardly fashion of his murderers.

J. Edgar Hoover has a death mask of Dillinger outside his office in Washington D.C. It's a kind of trophy to the virility of the FBI. It should be made out of chicken shit.

We must all become at least a little like Dillinger. The pigs have been getting away with outrageous sadism. I can imagine them at their parties laughing over the chick they kicked in the cunt or hair they pulled out of some hippie's beard. There are some pleasures that must not be tolerated.

The Police lived in terror of John Dillinger. When they had him in jail they never messed with him. The pigs knew Johnny was going to break out and they better not fool around. He was treated something like visiting nobility.

I think of the time I got the shit kicked out of me in the Berkeley Police Station, the pigs really enjoyed that. There were the smiles on their faces as the blood flowed in Lincoln Park.

Dillinger knew how to wipe those smiles off. He didn't ask as many questions as we do, but he sure had a lot of right answers.

MERRY JERRY BUGGED

by Stew Albert

Merry Jerry used to be the easiest going guy when it came to wire-tapping. He always thought a lot of people were uptight about Big Brother having his ear to the wall. He has now learned, as we all must, that a bit of paranoia is pure reality.

"The FBI has been bugging me for years," Jerry Rubin told BARB over a bugged phone from New York. "Now they've admitted it publicly."

"The shit all came out on the appeal of my conviction on the Pentagon bust," Jerry rapped. "The Supreme Court says the FBI has to admit and tell the judge if any evidence in the case came as a result of electronic tapping."

"The Justice Department claims they didn't get any evidence on the Pentagon bust as the result of tapping but they might be bull-shitting," Jerry charged.

"Because I cannot hear any of the tapes and we just have to take their word. The government says they used electronic devices. They might have been either phone tapping or apartment bugging, or maybe both."

Jerry's lawyer in New York, Bill Kunstler, has gotten a delay on his New York pot trial.

"He will demand that the judge in the grass case hear the tapes and find out if the prosecution got any of their evidence from bugging," Rubin continued.

"If that happens we'll get the case thrown out. Because the pigs have previously claimed they got all their info from a stool pigeon!!

"The Justice Department says they were tapping someone else in the interests of their security, and only accidentally heard me," Jerry scoffed. "But my lawyer, who was also Rap's lawyer, says this is what they always claim. They did this in Rap Brown's case."

Rubin calls it a "weird feeling to think that the federal pigs have been listening to my phone calls and dinner conversations for the last year.

He pictures them "drunk and fat, a can of beer in their hands, trying to figure out what half the words I use mean. I hope it drives them crazy," he said.

BUM TRIP

By Stew Albert

At a New Year's Eve party in New York the Yippies declared 1969 to be the Year of the Bum Trip. It was universal, the wild-men moved between parties and into the streets, and always came back with a "It was a lot more joyous last year" tale.

We sat around and it was all reminisces about last year's pipe dreams of both freaking out and making love to America.

The felony indictments are going to come down heavy. If you plan a demonstration it will be conspiracy, and if you go to it it will be assault with a deadly weapon (existing in the pigs minds).

The despair was exaggerated, everybody at the parties knew that, but there were just no beautiful dreams as January 1 became a reality.

A lot of the best struggles have turned sour. There was an attempt to get Bill Graham to give the Lower East Side community a free night at the Fillmore East. Graham gave in for a while and then backed out claiming the insurance companies were threatening to cancel the Fillmore if the free nights continued.

There was a wild semi-riot after an MC 5 rock concert. Graham got his nose bruised by a chain and a couple of ushers were stabbed. The street people went after some of the MC 5 when they caught them leaving the gig in a bourgeois chauffeur-driven limousine.

A couple of days later Graham convinced people that the insurance rate really would ruin him and that there was no way he could give away the Fillmore.

Bill Graham may be a very big cat on the block for us, but for the insurance companies, he is a tiny mouse that can never roar.

I spent a couple of hours with Abbie Hoffman, a one-man global village, all electric and always optimistic. Even Abbie was seeing grey for the future. He hopes Eldridge is in Cuba, setting things up for an exile-dropout community. Hoffman figures we have a year or so and then the trip without a ticket will end.

Back in Berkeley everyone says the movement on the campus is at a ten year low. Telegraph Avenue is applying for status as a police station. The Diggers have gone a hundred ways into hopelessness.

I checked out the Panthers and they are in the needed business of purging crazies and reading Lenin. They are going to stop recruiting for a while, harden their core and be ready for a long cold winter with Richard Nixon.

The revolution has spread out a long way since the FSM. Campuses like Columbia and San Francisco have exploded higher into the sky than Berkeley ever did, and lots of high schools are blowing with them. The psychedelics are taking over TV and some of the best light shows are found in commercials that undermine the products they sell.

But the price is going to be paid. The man has no intention of letting us take over and illuminate his power trip without first trying to build concentration camps around our dreams.

To survive and grow in the next year we are going to have to re-examine every anti-organizational bias in our rebel souls. Everybody just can't go off and do his own thing. We have to develop a program for winning the majority of American youth to a real thing, social and political revolution. Your own thing has to become our thing.

The FBI agents who have visited me four times since Chicago wake up early in the morning, and through the day exert a ferocious and determined energy in the cause of J. Edgar Hoover's evil portrait.

Lying around stoned all day isn't going to make the revolution for us. Those agents will install bars around our pads and leave us there to meditate on our navels and die.

INHOGRATION DAZE

THE DREAM IS DEAD

by Stew Albert

WASHINGTON, D.C.-- Little Dick Nixon, always the smallest punk on the football team, has finally been sworn in as captain.

The Mormon Tabernacle Choir was there, and stoned out of my head, I thought I saw Eldridge in the White House, and the choir was singing "Fuck Ronald Reagan."

We came to Washington to denounce the war and the phony democracy that produced it. There were twelve thousand new style madmen, the kind that flaunt their sanity in public.

The same people who stormed the Pentagon and Richard Daley's dungeon were back on the streets, and if they were not able to destroy the inauguration, at least they could force it to share TV time with an army of solid freaks.

It started in a weird huge tent more or less at the base of the Washington monument, a day before Nixon put his hand on two Bibles. There was a rally, the usual assortment of Guatemalan priests, Hell No GI's and Woman Liberationists. And Phil Ochs.

The crowd wearing white Nixon masks and playing kazoos got up tight -- some guy shouted "anyone who speaks from a microphone is my enemy," and 700 Yippies, their purple and pink flag aloft, bolted from the tent and began their march twenty minutes before anyone was supposed to.

When the march officially began it numbered ten thousand. Reversing the route the monsters would take the next day on Pennsylvania Avenue celebrating Nixon, we marched to and not from the Capitol building.

The reviewing stands were already ready up for the Inauguration and we piled into them cheering ourselves as we walked by. The occasional Hungarian refugee was there to remind us we were traitors.

There were occasional incidents with the pigs and some clubbings and arrests, but it was mostly peaceful and the fuzz even faked being polite.

When the night came we had our InHoguration. It was a great rock and light show, and Paul Krassner was on the set to say that he had a post escape interview with Cleaver and that the FBI had already questioned him.

The tent was packed and ripping apart at the seams, the grass was passed around and many of the cats who stay away from all marches were there, really grooving and happy.

The ground was cold and muddy, it reminded people of Resurrection City, but we all stayed close together and warm.

Around midnight a Yippie wearing Earl Warren's robes stood on top of a parked truck, and using the Reader's Digest as a bible swore in a pig as President. This time Pigasus was a naked man in a pig's mask (the real presidential Pig still languishes in a Chicago jail), and he was shot down and assassinated on the spot.

Throughout the evening, plain-clothed pigs circulated in the crowd, but although they saw pot, made no arrests.

There were some SDS and Youth Against War and Fascism type radicals who wanted to try to create a Chicago type situation out of the power of their own wishful thinking. To have an all out war in the streets it takes a Trujillo type Mayor or Governor but the guy in charge was Attorney General Ramsey Clark and he was very generous in handing out permits.

The government played it clever allowing the organizers the freedom to do all the peaceful things they wanted and bringing in an overwhelming police power to crush us. The 82 Airborne, the Secret Service, the National Guard and the Washington Tac Pigs were all there. In this environment street fights were always small and sporadic, and it was impossible to fuck up the Inaugural parade.

We will now have to relate to Richard Nixon. He is the first president whose very inauguration was met with organized opposition in the streets on the day he took the oath.

This hard working mediocrity will have no era of good feeling from the New America. The universities and ghettos will blow up in Nixon's Bob Hope face, and even the boy scouts won't be inspired by his Elk's Club charisma.

The Dream is now officially dead. Without myths no ruling class can survive and what myths are left in America are now the sole property of the movement.

OIL STRIKE

YAWN'S EARLY LIGHT

by Stew Albert

Only a call from the pissed-off proletariat could get me out of bed at 6 a.m. We were at the Standard Oil Refinery in Richmond by seven, ready to join the striking workers in class struggle.

The only problem was that I met several hundred student radicals at the gates of Rockefeller, but the workers were there only by the handful and it seemed like we were picketing an industrialized Sproul Hall.

The atmosphere was cold, grim, and chock full of sterility. A jungle of steel, pipes, boilers, tanks, barbed wire and scabs. We marched in front of all the entrance gates, unable to stop the big trucks, but beating the shit out of any automobile that tried to get through us.

Occasionally someone would come screaming to a picket line that scabs were going through at another line and that the pigs were breaking heads. We would go running off to where the atrocity was happening but on arrival everything would seem calm, and the tales of violence a bit exaggerated.

Many of the Richmond pigs came on friendly, asking workers for strike buttons and saying they were sympathetic. When I flashed a victory sign at one of them, he returned it, saying "Peace Brother".

I was involved in one semi-violent incident with scabbing white collars. We were walking from one picket line to another when we bumped into five straights in suits headed for work. Words and threats were exchanged and the scabs tried a little shoving. We elbowed them a bit and then Gumbo took a karate pose which freaked out the class traitors, who beat a hasty retreat.

It was hard to tell just what sort of effect we were having on the refining of oil. There seemed to be plenty of people inside working, but their work seemed to consist of just standing around and looking at us. A bunch were on a roof, jeering and photographing us. We educated them with our traditional cry of "jump".

A train with oil tanks went by headed for the refinery, and I had visions of Marcello Maestrosini as "The Organizer" leading us in a march on to the tracks, stopping the train and winning the engineer over to socialism.

All the vanguard parties were on the picket line, PL, CP, YSA, ISC etc. etc. These are the die-hards, who cling to the beautiful faith that the American working class will someday have the intelligence and courage to seize state power and kick the bosses' ass once and for all.

Along with the Marxist-Leninists were the reliable street brawlers, from the Pentagon, Chicago and Stop the Draft Week who hate all variety of pigs and welcome any opportunity to send one to the hospital.

There were some hard cores who fit in between both camps, depending on what the newspapers say about the world on a given morning.

Around nine o'clock the lines started breaking up. There were no arrests, and we had a full day of closing Sather Gate to look forward to.

This was not the first time in recent months that organized workers called on disorganized students to join their picket lines. In Chicago striking black bus-drivers asked us to join their cause, and I saw long-haired bearded freaky Yippies throwing rocks through bus windows and shouting "scab" at the white drivers.

The more repressive American Government becomes in trying to hold onto its foreign and domestic empire of robots and raw materials the greater the likelihood of striking workers being clubbed and maced; and those blinded eyes will for the first time begin to see our "Pigs off Campus" point of view.

We do not have to believe that the workers will someday lead us in revolution, ~~to understand~~ that it is absolutely crucial that they support us and not George Wallace.

A revolution in America will be made by a tribal gathering of the fucked-over. It will cut across normal class lines. From never-employed street blacks to white teamsters to the dropped-out children of the idle rich all co-starring in equal roles -- let the pigs parade in formation, they are headed straight for the cliff.

Judge Floyd Talbott sits in Dept 2 Berkeley Municipal Court, smiles with a faintly benign irony and sends people to jail.

He has sat in judgment of me on two occasions. One time I had Mel Belli as my lawyer and was convicted of being a public nuisance for which Talbott layed fifty-five days on my ass; recently it was a conviction for disturbing the peace, he gave me thirty days and a $250 fine. I was my own mouthpiece.

If I were an alcoholic businessman Talbott would have let me off with a fine but I am a lifetime politico so he has given three months of my life to Sheriff Madigan and the pigs of Santa Rita.

I get very different vibes from Talbott than are emitted by the mouth and soul of Judge George Brunn. The courtroom of Brunn is a spiritual bathroom with the John placed behind the bench and Brunn covering the plumbing with his black robes. George always has a case of foul diarrhea which is always spelled in the evil way he pulls his lips together. He wants us all to join in his suffering and become part of a universe in which the only reality is agonized shit. George Brunn really enjoys sending the oppressed part of the human race to jail. His misery loves our company.

Judge Talbott is a very different trip. He gets no pleasure out of his task and in a guarded way sometimes shows that it causes him pain. During my trial he was always pleasant--we would occasionally chat in his chambers and his attitude to the great revolutionary storm was that there had been a terrible breakdown in communication between the generations and he could certainly see why a young man would be a revolutionist.

Floyd Talbott seems in a certain quiet way to enjoy life and to want to share it with the defendants that go before him, the problem is that it takes courage to be kind and generous; and if you are a Berkeley Municipal judge who would like to spend his remaining days at a higher and more distinguished post, courage becomes a virtue that is too expensive to possess even on the installment plan.

But maybe it has nothing to do with ambition. Floyd Talbott may be the sort of Protestant who has been taught to mistrust his own best feeling as a form of weakness. I think of the guilt-ridden fundamentalist who would pray to god for forgiveness when he beat the shit out of his children and would pray to a meaner god to forgive him his liberality when trapped up in the beauty of a spring morning, he would let them go with a smack.

In my case Talbott's best feelings played some role. The DA wanted to put me on ice for 90 days because of what I write in the BARB, because I defended myself and went around boasting how I kicked his ass and how everyone else could do the same. When Talbott gave me 30 days the DA Walt Brown's thin shoulders collapsed and he slouched out of the court room.

But it is a matter of record that there was no evidence against me and that the jury convicted only my appearance of being disturbing. The decent thing to do would be to fine me fifty bucks and write it off as an entertaining week in court. This is the type of uninhibited kindness that Floyd Talbott's internal constitution outlaws in all its amendments.

There is a big Berkeley family of six, Lincoln and Sheila Drummond and their four children that hates Floyd Talbott's guts. During the summer Linc was arrested for possession of fire bombs in his automobile. The pigs set the bail at ten thousand. The bail on Linc's friend was cut in half but Talbott refused to cut Linc Drummond's. Linc had no previous record and is a working stiff with four kids. The reduction of bail should have been automatic.

The pigs really wanted to punish Linc. To keep him locked up in an oxygenless 7 by 7 Greystone cell which he could only leave twice a week for washing. They hoped he would be driven insane and plead guilty so that he could go to a roomy airy penitentiary for five years.

The bail was finally raised by Sheila and her four kids going up and down Telegraph with cans in their hands. It took two months.

The Drummond's four kids went without a father because Floyd Talbott did not have the courage to say a few words. He probably felt awful, wishing he could do the right thing. But for whatever reason when it came down to the real world Floyd Talbott and the pigs who beat Linc's body to a pulp when they arrested him were soul brothers on the same farm.

During the Nazi period the judges in Hitler's "peoples" courts wore the swastika on their robes. If fascism comes to America, I know George Brunn will be first in line at the supply center for his shiny new symbol. Judge Floyd Talbott will be a holdout, a good old timer who wears his robes straight. But then one day it will become compulsory, the new robes will arrive in his office and he will either wear it or retire.

When we go into the Dept 2 of the new era Judge Talbott, his ironical smile gone, will still be there; but there will be something new--a bright brown swastika on the front of his robe. Getting away all pretense Floyd Talbott will be sitting on a well-warmed toilet.

WHY IT HAS TO HAPPEN

by Stew Albert

I may be in Berkeley Jail when you read this. I have to go in next Tuesday for 30 days and also pay a $250 fine. The judge sentenced me for "Disturbing Roger Heyns' Peace."

This will be a major disappointment to Big Daddy Dutton the DA and his little child bride assistant Walt Brown. Dutton was after the full sentence of 90 days. "I know who Stew Albert is," he proclaimed. "I read his articles in the BARB. I know what he thinks of the system. We want the full sentence."

This all stemmed out of the Moses Hall sit-in and my pleading not guilty and acting as my own lawyer. Everyone else busted took the deal and got ten days and an effeminate tongue-lashing from Judge Brunn, who warned me in particular that I had the most to lose by not taking the deal.

My total loss will amount to twenty days and the fun of playing my own theater games with the monarchical mysticism of the black robed judge and the pigs' mouthpiece DA, makes it more than worth it.

I won my case in court and was found guilty of one of the three charges because ultimately my eyes gave me away, the jury knew I just had to be guilty of something.

The thought of spending 30 days behind bars with only my own hand to sleep with is bumming enough to make me wonder if my mother was right in telling me to take education credits and become a school teacher.

I have to think why as a stray cat on the road four years ago I decided to dive into the Berkeley Revolution and commit my life to it. In New York I had picked up on a crazy combination of Kerouac and Karl Marx poetry chanted to the coolest jazz that the heroin of the moment would permit.

In Berkeley I saw my million daydreams spoken in the night time bedroom hideouts of Brooklyn flashing by totally in the flesh down Telegraph Avenue and speaking with penetrating reality through the microphones of Sprol Plaza, Savio, Aptheker, Weinberg and Jerry Rubin, folklore names known only through the newspapers sitting next to you on the terrace and by different routes predicting the apocalypse of the American Empire and complaining about the pseudo-burrito that the Cafeteria defined as food.

In New York I lived in the internal theater of repression talking to the walls about zen, socialism and fantasizing in the back row of old Russian Movies.

The Vietnam Day Committee propelled me into the real world in which I did what I thought, and in fighting for its cause began my steep ascent into manhood. It was easy at first, I used to sit at the VDC table on the campus and argue the immorality of programmed genocide in Vietnam. Nobody stood in my way and I wondered why I put off being born all these years. I thought the advice my Jewish parents gave me about not angering the alien gods too much was pure paranoia baked in Hitler's ovens and by now stale.

One day Jim Schneider came over to the VDC table and told me to clear off the campus, I was a non-student without a bureaucratic priest to hear my confession. We all laughed and called this robot with a badge "Dean Fuzz". I thought of the name while sitting on a toilet and when it caught on and everyone used it I felt as if he was an absurd joke invented by the Berkeley Gazette.

It was no joke. I had to stop sitting at the Table and my firm grasp on being alive was under severe challenge. The movement started using the word repression and I realized that my parents' fears were not entirely based on Hollywood's version of the Nazis and reading the Zionist Hadassah Newsletter.

Things are much more concise now. There is a real enemy standing across the street with badge, mace, club and six-gun--a sadomasochist who doesn't have to put ads in the Berkeley BARB to get his thrills. The monster rat who pulls the pig's strings is less obvious, cooler and with some pretense at having a mind. You can see him on evening news. As Eldridge says, "He could look his momma in the eye and lie".

There is no way to argue our continuously escalating confrontation with oblivion out of existence. For me to turn my back on it is a cop-out against my own existence. It would be to return to the 1950's middle-class death that my Berkeley life sprung from.

My actions will have consequences, which cannot be escaped--there will be these 30 days and then there are several more months for an old political crime and I expect the Federal government to come down on my head this year. What is happening to me is part of the reality our whole movement is dealing with. I am nothing unusual.

It's all worth it. Things are going to get worse and we must organize and prepare for war. But what is the alternative--to abandon everything we know is right and beautiful about our lives for a plush suburban tombstone on an LA Freeway? We will have our consequences.

Gather round me children a story I will tell about Pretty Boy Floyd
the outlaw
Oklahoma knew him well.
--from a ballad by Woody Guthrie
a communist folksinger of Americas 30's and 40's

Pretty Boy Floyd never heard of Mao Tse Tung but he learned and applied the tactics of guerilla war completely on his own. In the 1930's in the Cookson Hills of Oklahoma Charles A. Floyd was a one man red army reeking total revenge on the pigs and bankers.

Floyd was the son of a poor farmer and being down an' out broke during the depression. he and some fellow migrant workers pulled a stickup that landed him five years in the Missouri Pen.

When he got out Charles Floyd saw all the farms being gobbled up by the bankers protected by pig guns. His closest friends were on the way to California, poor Oakies humming the "grapes of wrath". Floyd decided to hold his ground and fight.

The fucked over workers and farmers of the 30s didn't give a shit about law and order. A "Support your local police" button would only be worn by a banker or a stockbroker, the Feds were nobody's hero except J. Edgar Hoover's, and a local bank robbery was cause for a picnic. They were miserable times but at least the average man knew who was shitting on him and why.

Charley Floyd would rip off banks in Oklahoma, Missouri and the entire southwest, then make it up to the Cookson Hills where the people would hide him out. The FBI and the State Police would come looking for Floyd but they would get blank stares from the hill people and when the pigs were unlucky enough to catch up with the outlaw they would get a blast in the snout from his shotgun or Thompson submachine gun.

It was a general policy of farmers in the 1930s to buy back their bank-seized land at auctions for a few dollars. If any business man was tempted to make a high bid and seize the land he would have to plead his case in the court of shotgun democracy. When Charley Floyd stuck up banks he was only taking the armed struggle of his neighbors to a higher stage by going on the offensive.

Pretty Boy Floyd and John Dillinger hooked up a while for the purposes of bank robbing and protection when both outlaws were under heavy heat from John law. They were both genuine rebels but different types.

Dillinger liked highliving and well-organized gangs. Floyd, although an Okie style big boozier, also was an ascetic who could live off the jack rabbit he hunted in the hills and was essentially a loner picking partners only when it was necessary.

There was a superstition in Oklahoma that even the smartest outlaw was a dead man if he tried to take more than one bank on the same day. It went back to the 19th century when the great Dalton brothers were shot down when they were trying to take a second bank. Floyd pulled off a double bank job on a morning and afternoon spree that got him the reputation in the southwest of being a second

Jesse James. The outlaw dug the compliment and wrote a letter to the local paper thanking them for the name.

Even when he was being denounced by J. Edgar Hoover and his face was in every post office the outlaw could always return to Stillisaw, Oklahoma and visit his wife and kids to whom he was very loyal. The neighbors including the Sheriff were respectful and friendly and there was no chance that the bankers' reward money would turn Charley Floyd's townsmen into traitors.

The present day bullshit is that the FBI dropped out of the sky handmade by god. In reality the FBI was a two bit joke until the 30s when the bankers built it up to protect them against outlaw Americans who would not suffocate peacefully in a crop destroying dust bowl. The death penalty for kidnapping was introduced not to protect little children but the bankers who were occasionally taken for rides and held ransom by outlaw gangs.

The FBI hunted Floyd down and shot him in the back near Youngstown, Ohio. They were able to get him because of the hell they brought down on the people of the Cookson Hills. Floyd did not want to be responsible for his brothers' suffering because they were protecting him, so he left the hills and headed for Kansas City.

The Mafia of Kansas City offered to hide Floyd out but it took big bread and Floyd refused to earn it by becoming a hired gun for big business crime. He ran out of money and was betrayed by the City gangsters who were working with the pigs and politicians in the Kansas City Prendergast Machine. There was no love lost, when Pretty Boy Floyd ran out of money his life ended. He was fingered by the mob and the FBI got him--a guerilla separated from the mountains and the people who lived on them and who loved the outlaw.

When I think of Charley Floyd I think of some Oakie gas station attendant who has just been drafted into the Vietnamese War. The guy being a good man with a gun will probably survive it. But he will experience the total rottenness of capitalism to the same degree that his Oklahoma brothers did in the 30s.

I would like to think that this guy who drinks heavy and has "horn to raise hell" tattooed on his wrist will come back like Charley Floyd came out of the Missouri Penitentiary, determined to take on the man by any means necessary.

I think the 1970s will breathe to life not one Pretty Boy Floyd but thousands.

MERRY JERRY VERY

by Stew Albert

The Chicago indictments finally came down. The judges were wooden and Daley and Nixon were pulling the strings.

There will be a collective legal defense featuring the law offices of Charles R. Garry and William Kunstler.

We went through months of wondering, there were many rumors, someone always had a friend in the Justice Department. We heard the liberals were trying to block the indictments and had won over Johnson to their point of view. There was a rumor that the indictments had come down and then were withdrawn. We were told that they were on Nixon's desk, waiting for his signature while he was cursed at all over Europe.

Then the phone rang and there was a local newscaster asking Tom Hayden how he felt about being indicted and that's the first we knew that the paranoia was over and this time it was for real.

Tom Hayden arranged to surrender himself and was grabbed by a US Marshall in violation of the agreement. It took him about four hours to be bailed out. Charles Garry, who was acting as Tom's lawyer, was really pissed off, and Justice Department Official Uncle Tom Cecil Poole called the man shall a prick while his back was turned.

This arresting pig has a particular reputation for being a storm trooper. During Stop the Draft week the punk arrested some demonstrators for sedition. Cecil Poole had to drop the charges and this act cost him his judgeship.

A couple of days later Bobby Seale returned from Sweden and gave himself up. This time everything was cool. Nobody played gestapo and Bobby was out in an hour.

I spoke to Jerry Rubin on the phone and he was delighted. Rubin considers this the highest honor the ruling class has ever payed him. He thinks the trial will give him another opportunity to try out Yippie satire and make the jury wonder if it's a trial or a surrealist painting.

Abbie Hoffman was ~~guaranteed~~ twice in the same week, once on the conspiracy indictment and then again framed on a charge of gun and heroin possession. It's definitely a frame-up, the pigs in New York are trying to wipe the smirk off Abbie's face.

Dave Dellinger, Rennie Davis, John Froines and Lee Weiner were also indicted and voluntarily surrendered. Everybody faces at least two counts and 10-15 years in jail, many have travel restrictions and bail has been set at 10,000 dollars.

Along with the indicted are twelve who are called co-conspirators and who have not been indicted. The acts of the co-conspirators are blamed on the conspirators, like blaming the fathers for the sins of the children.

The rumor factory is producing at top quota, and I have heard that there will be more rounds of indictments in the near future.

Allen Ginsberg called the ten thousand youth who came to Chicago the best minds of his generation. They are now being dragged into court by the ~~authorities~~.

CONSPIRACY HATCHED

by Stew Albert

The Conspiracy spent two days in Berkeley last week and hatched plans to tour the nation.

Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin, Dave Dellinger, Tom Hayden, Bobby Seale and John Froines who were indicted by Little Dicks Nixon and Daley for conspiracy met in a fashionable Ashby Ave crash pad. Along with a stray co-conspirator (me) they decided to turn the indictments into a continent-wide organizing campaign.

The group will call itself The Conspiracy and invites all the ambitious madmen of hope to join it.

A tribal alliance of the Chicago Conspirators, The Oakland 7 and the Black Panthers will travel around the country rapping to the reality and signing up volunteers. The Conspiracy hopes to be tens of thousands strong in the streets of Chicago during the trial, which, if the government doesn't see the clear light, will take place about a year from now.

The Conspirators were like one head in Berkeley. None of them wanted to turn it into a feel-sorry-for-me support campaign. They know the pigs love defense campaigns where everyone stops creating and starts crying. It's clear the Movement lost out in the fifties when under McCarthyite inquisition they went underground and functioned through please-don't-send-me-to-jail front groups.

The Conspiracy will turn the attack into our own style Tet offensive. Not a single campus, ghetto or dropout center will go unscorched and unchanged. If the pigs think the indictments will slow down interstate traffic in revolution they have a surprise coming up on Highway 61 filled with Panthers, Yippies and merry mad-ists breaking traffic laws and in a big hurry to hatch another consciousness-expanding collision.

Bobby Seale says that he may move Panther National Headquarters to Chicago and turn on Chicago's blacks (who make up 40% of Richard Daley's Concentration Camp) to what the pigs are trying to pull off down at the courthouse.

The Panther chapter in Chicago is one of the Party's strongest and the Mayor's favorite Nun can expect to see them marching uniformed through her Church of the Blessed Mafia Daughter.

The Conspiracy will be represented in court by a team of three headed up by the Honorable Charles R. Garry who is starting to step into Clarence Darrow's fighting mouth.

Even as psychotic a courter of the apocalypse as LBJ knew better than to push these indictments but Richard Nixon cannot forget his youthful triumphs. It was Nixon who put Alger Hiss in jail and purged the State Department of "Communists". Through this triumph he became Eisenhower's child bride; it was the one success of his adult life.

I think Nixon dreams he can do it again--that kicking our ass is a simple matter of just doing it. He is in for a maddening surprise--The Conspiracy caravans are in motion, its proportions infinite. In his little White House of sterility Richard Nixon will come to see the San Andreas fault as part of our conspiracy quivering beneath his feet.

MEET THE NEW SHERIFF, BOYS

"Alameda County justice is for the pigs, by the pigs, and of the pigs," declared Stew Albert this week when he announced his candidacy for the office of Alameda County Sheriff.

"It is in total violation of constitutional rights, and if elected I will crush this 'justice'," he added.

Stew's opponent in the race for sheriff is current chief pig, Tom Madigan. Stew's slogan for the campaign, he said, is "Slap leather, Madigan. This town isn't big enough for both of us".

Another move the candidate intends to make is to challenge Sheriff Madigan to a duel. "A high noon shoot out with .357 Magnums on Telegraph Avenue," is how he puts the terms.

Stew expects much of his support in his race for office to come from the ranks of students, Black Panthers, dope-dealers, prostitutes, and all so-called "degenerate elements of society."

Several people who overheard Stew's announcement of his candidacy voiced their puzzlement as to how long the race will run, when the elections will be, etc. "Why a candidate can start running any time he wants to," Stew reassured them. "It really doesn't matter when the election is..."

If elected, Stew promised, "I will not collect any salary as Sheriff; I intend to live off the graft."

"The Sheriff of Alameda County is the top cop" he went on. "He has the legal right to take over any police force in the county." (ie of state.)

"As Sheriff, I intend to take over ALL the police forces, righteously purge them, then with revolutionaries in command, make the streets totally unsafe for all the pigs of the power structure. That includes ex-Sheriff Madigan."

"The reason I'm running for the office," he added, "is because Mao Tse Tung and Huey Newton are right... political power begins at the barrel of a gun."

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by [REDACTED] Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

b7C

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial [REDACTED] which ends with the following:

b7C

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

CAMPUS VIETNAM DAY COMMITTEE,
formerly known as the Vietnam Day Committee (VDC)
Berkeley

A source advised in May, 1965 that the VDC was founded in May, 1965 to organize the May 21-22, 1965 community "teach-in" on the University of California, Berkeley, California (UCB) Campus.

Public literature distributed by the VDC revealed that the purpose of the VDC was to mold public opinion to force withdrawal of the United States from Vietnam and to utilize dramatic, large-scale demonstrations in increasing public alarm about the Vietnam war.

A second source advised on June 24, 1966 that at a meeting of the San Francisco Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) in San Francisco, California on June 22, 1966, [redacted] whom source identified as a member of the Branch, commented among other things that "with our help," the VDC was finally recognized as a political power and was under "our control."

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A third source related on September 29, 1966 that as of September 29, 1966, the VDC was controlled and dominated by [redacted] Source added that the VDC was no longer under the control of the old stalwarts of the original VDC and there was no continuity between the original and current VDC.

A fourth source on October 27, 1966 identified [redacted] as a member of the SWP.

Third source informed on April 18, 1967 that the activities of the VDC had been taken over by the Campus VDC, and there no longer was an off-campus VDC in Berkeley. Source related Campus VDC is a registered on-Campus organization with UCB. Source added that for the time being, Campus VDC is expected to remain dormant. However, its name and skeletal organization would be kept alive by the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) as a "standby organization" to be used only when necessary.

Third source identified [redacted] of the Campus VDC and stated those active in the Campus VDC when it functioned included [redacted] and [redacted] who consulted with SWP and YSA leadership regarding Campus VDC operations and activities.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT

A source advised on March 3, 1965, as follows:

The May 2 Movement (M2M), formerly known as the May 2 Committee, was organized on March 14, 1964, at New Haven, Connecticut, by a group of young people participating in a symposium "Socialism in America" being held at Yale University. The original aim of the M2M was to plan and execute a demonstration in New York City on May 2, 1964, demanding withdrawal of United States troops from Viet Nam.

The M2M was dominated and controlled by the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) and had for its aim and purpose the embarrassment of the United States Government by meetings, rallies, picketing demonstrations, and formation of university level clubs at which a Marxist-Leninist oriented approach and analysis was taken of United States domestic and foreign policies. This source advised on May 19, 1965, that the headquarters of the M2M was 640 Broadway, New York City, Room 307.

A second source advised on February 9, 1966, that the M2M was officially dissolved as an organization on February 6, 1966, at a meeting held on the same date in New York City, by the leadership of M2M and the Progressive Labor Party.

APPENDIX

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

The "New York Times" city edition Tuesday, April 20, 1965, Page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP, which had been known as the Progressive Labor Movement.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962, by Milton Rosen and Mortimer Scheer after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

A source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP held its Second National Convention in New York City May 31 to June 2, 1968, at which time the PLP reasserted its objective of the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism. This is to be accomplished through the Party's overall revolutionary strategy of raising the consciousness of the people and helping to provide ideological leadership in the working class struggle for state power.

The source also advised that at the Second National Convention [redacted] was unanimously re-elected [redacted] of the PLP and [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] were elected as the National Committee to lead the PLP until the next convention.

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor," a bimonthly magazine; "World Revolution," a quarterly periodical; and "Challenge-Desafio," a monthly newspaper.

The August, 1968, issue of "Challenge-Desafio" sets forth that "above all, this paper is dedicated to the fight for a new way of life--where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire Government on every level."

The source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP utilizes an address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, and also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York, New York.

APPENDIX

REVOLUTIONARY UNION
Also Known As
Red Union

A confidential source advised in July, 1968, that the Revolutionary Union, commonly known to its membership as the Red Union (RU), is a covert, revolutionary Marxist-Leninist organization formed in early 1968 for the purpose of instilling the line of the Communist Party of China into the political situation in the United States. The membership of the RU espouse the militant communism of MAO Tse-tung and believe in the necessity of violent revolution and open guerrilla warfare to overthrow the present political system in the United States and effect radical changes in this nation.

In August, 1968, a second confidential source advised that the RU in the San Francisco area consists of four locals, one in San Francisco, one in Palo Alto, and two in the East Bay area. The leadership of the RU consists of former long time members of the CP, USA whose revolutionary activities date back into the 1930's and who broke with the CP in the late 1950's, accusing the CP of revisionism. The membership of the RU is made up of radical, left-wing youths who have participated in student demonstrations and draft resistance movements. The RU looks to Communist China as the model of the correct revolutionary Marxist-Leninist line and the works of MAO Tse-tung are read and discussed in the weekly education classes.

According to this source, the membership of the RU have studied and practiced guerrilla warfare techniques and some of the members have engaged in practice with firearms. The RU is against firearms control laws because such laws would make it more difficult for them to obtain weapons, and one of the leaders has stated that any traitor to the RU would be killed.

STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR TRAVEL TO CUBA (SCTC); PERMANENT STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR TRAVEL TO CUBA (PSCTC);
AD HOC STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR TRAVEL TO CUBA (AHSCTC)

"The Columbia Owl", a weekly student newspaper of Columbia University, New York, New York, dated December 12, 1962, page one, contained an article entitled, "Students to Visit Cuba During Holidays". This article stated in part that the AHSCTC was formed October 14, 1962.

A source advised on September 13, 1963, that during the Summer of 1963, fifty-nine individuals traveled to Cuba; that the leaders of the group were members of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) and that the trip was planned and organized by PLM members.

On March 12, 1965, [REDACTED] a self-admitted member of the SCTC Executive Committee and the PLM National Coordinating Committee, advised the SCTC was formerly known as the PSCTC and the AHSCTC. [REDACTED] was a leader of the 1962 trip to Cuba, an organizer of the 1964 trip, and that both trips were sponsored by the SCTC. As of the Spring of 1964, the members of the SCTC Executive Committee were considered members of the PLM. No SCTC sponsored trip was made in 1965. b6 b7C

On February 3, 1967, a second source advised that the SCTC was defunct.

The Progressive Labor Party (PLP) which contains information concerning the PLM, is characterized separately.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE
(known in San Francisco Bay Area as Bay Area Young Socialist Alliance
also known as
Bay Area Committee of the Young Socialist Alliance, Bay Area Committee for the Young Socialist)

A source advised on May 16, 1960, that the Bay Area Young Socialist Alliance (BAYSA) was formed in February, 1958, as the Bay Area Committee for the Young Socialist (BACYS). At a later stage in its development prior to adoption of the name BAYSA, the organization was known as the Bay Area Committee of the Young Socialist Alliance (BACYSA).

The source advised that as a result of a national convention held April 15-17, 1960, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, the BAYSA became a branch of the national organization to be known as the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) and will carry out in the Northern California area the policies of the YSA.

The source advised April 18, 1968, that the BAYSA is currently active and is composed of two locals: The San Francisco YSA and the Berkeley YSA.

The source advised on April 18, 1968, that the BAYSA, although ostensibly an independent organization, is in reality controlled by the San Francisco Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP) and the Oakland Branch, SWP.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960 issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of the YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles of revolutionary socialism.

On March 10, 1967, a source advised that the YSA was formed during 1957, by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The source further advised that the YSA has recently become more open about admitting that it is the youth group of the SWP and that an SWP representative has publicly stated that the YSA is the SWP's youth group.

The National Headquarters of the YSA are located in Rooms 532-536, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

On October 31, 1967, a second source advised that at the 22nd National Convention of the SWP held in New York City from October 26, 1967, to October 29, 1967, it was stated that the YSA remained as the main recruiting ground for new SWP members.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of "Young Socialist" is set out separately.

"YOUNG SOCIALIST"

The "Young Socialist" is a magazine published monthly, except during the summer, by the Young Socialist Alliance. The October, 1964, edition, the initial edition utilizing the magazine format, relates that this magazine succeeds the "Young Socialist" newspaper in an effort to provide "more facts on more general issues than a small newspaper can".

The "Young Socialist" newspaper was formerly described as the official organ of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA).

The "Young Socialist" maintains office space at the headquarters of the YSA, Rooms 532-536, 41 Union Square West, New York City, and has a mailing address of Post Office Box 471, Cooper Station, New York, New York 10003.

A characterization of the YSA is set out separately.

ALBERT considers himself to be primarily a writer. He submits work to the so-called "underground newspapers." The "Berkeley Tribe" publishes a good deal of his news stories and articles. The "Berkeley Tribe" is a recently founded weekly newspaper published in Berkeley by an organization known as "The Red Mountain Tribe." The Red Mountain Tribe is a group of former employees of the "Berkeley Barb," a three-year-old "underground" weekly newspaper published in Berkeley. The "Barb" employees became disgruntled with management practices and wages at the "Barb," and quit to form their own group for the purposes of publishing another newspaper. ALBERT is a member of the Red Mountain Tribe. U

The "Chicago Eight" are eight persons indicted for conspiracy to violate, and the violation of, Federal law pertaining to interstate travel in aid of riot. This indictment arose from the actions of the eight in connection with the August, 1968, National Convention of the Democratic Party. STEWART ALBERT was not indicted as a defendant with these eight, but was named in the indictment as a co-conspirator. One of the eight defendants is [redacted] publicly known as [redacted] U

During the period 12:50 PM through 2:00 PM on April 22, 1969, the BPP held a "rally" in Civic Center Park, Berkeley. The purpose of the rally was to demonstrate support for [redacted] a BPP member who was scheduled to appear in Berkeley-Albany Municipal Court at 2:00 PM that day. About 60 persons attended this rally. The featured speakers were [redacted] and STEWART ALBERT. Both speakers called for the people to become more revolutionary, and to follow the program of the BPP. On April 24, 1969, [redacted] furnished a leaflet which called for a mass rally on May 1, 1969, at the Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California. The leaflet termed May 1 as "Free Huey Day" and urged: "All Workers and Students - Don't Work or Go To School - Come See About Huey". U

LJN:mb

The leaflet stated that this rally was being held in connection with the hearing to be held that day in the Federal Building before U.S. District Judge ALFONSO J. ZIRPOLI. U

The leaflet listed a number of scheduled speakers for the rally. One of the speakers listed on the leaflet is "STU ALBERT, Int'l Liberation School". U

HUEY P. NEWTON, publicly known as one of the founders of the BPP, was, as of May, 1969, serving a sentence in a California prison for conviction of the crime of manslaughter. NEWTON was involved in a shooting incident in October, 1967, in Oakland, California, which resulted in the death of an Oakland police officer. NEWTON was subsequently convicted of manslaughter as a result of this shooting. Judge ZIRPOLI scheduled a hearing in the NEWTON matter for May 1, 1969, and ordered state authorities to show cause for denying NEWTON's release on bail while further appeals in his case were pending. U

During the noon hour of April 23, 1969, the usual "noon rally" was held on the steps of Sproul Hall on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley (UCB). The topic of the rally was "freeing" HUEY P. NEWTON and a rally in support of NEWTON which will be held on May 1, 1969, at the Federal Building in San Francisco. One of the speakers at the rally was STEWART ALBERT. On April 23, 1969, [] advised that ALBERT facetiously introduced himself as "ADLAI STEVENSON III, a friend of (Chicago) Mayor DAILEY". U

An article describing the April 23 rally appeared in the April 24 issue of the "Daily Californian". This article quoted ALBERT as stating that "Poetic justice" would be done if NEWTON was set free on "May Day, the anniversary of great revolutions". ALBERT is U also quoted as saying that the May Day demonstration must show Judge ZIRPOLI "what will happen if the liberals fink out again." U

The "Daily Californian" is a campus newspaper published by the Associated Students of the UCB. U

The above described rally was held on the plaza of the Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, on May 1, 1969. U

Special Agents of the FBI observed that ALBERT was approximately the 15th speaker at the rally. ALBERT castigated the "capitalist establishment" for sending young people to their deaths in Vietnam, or to jail, as in NEWTON's case. U

CALIF.
[redacted] of the Revolutionary Union (RU) stated in May of 1969, that he and another RU member had recently held a meeting with a number of BPP leaders. According to [redacted] STEWART ALBERT was also present at this meeting. KILLER KOP KISSED

by Stew Albert

O'Brien was acquitted. The all-white jury upheld the anglo-saxons' traditional right to rape and murder what they can't control. O'Brien received a trial by "a jury of his pigs".

Huey Newton was convicted of manslaughter with a fraction of the real evidence the prosecution had on O'Brien. Reporters who won't say it in print overheard the judge in chambers shouting racial obscenities at the DA.

Jake Ehrlich (on whom Perry Mason is modeled) won the right to call full-grown members of the Black Panther Party, "Boy", and dragged his decrepit soul across the street to buy the foreman of the jury a drink.

The Judge allowed Ehrlich to take over the court room and turn it into a Klan meeting. Ehrlich could interrupt the DA at will and give foul mouthed speeches about how black was ugly. If Charley Garry ever tried to pull off that shit he would risk a year for criminal contempt, but Jake Ehrlich is a fine southern gentleman and even the judge knew his place.

It used to be like this in Mississippi--white assassins would be freed by juries and the liberal establishment was in agony. They passed a law making it a federal felony to deny a black man his Civil Rights by killing him. I haven't heard one liberal call for a federal investigation of O'Brien's one man firing squad.

The Pigs are oinking to the people about law and order, but what they really mean is the right to beat their children and kill their slaves is being yanked out of their tight asses. The O'Brien jury has made clear what we already know--that in America there is no lawful society just a jungle of competing madmen.

We did not choose to be born into this inhumanity, we are seeking to create space for our souls to breathe in. It is a desperate struggle for oxygen, and O'Brien who kicked ass at SF State before graduating to being a killer is back on the streets.

We must learn to protect our lives with our own collective hands --the pigs have abolished law and in a jungle you must depend on your wits and trigger finger for survival.

bobby's spirit

by Stew Albert

The spirit of Bobby Hutton was shivering in the early morning memorial air.

There were about fifty of us waiting in Bobby Hutton's Park for the service to begin. We had to hold off until the sun appeared. It was 6 am and people were still floating in their dreams.

The spirit of Bobby Hutton grew impatient; this was a hell of a time to be up and just standing there doing nothing.

The Sun came up and we walked over to the old white wooden house in the park. Father Neil began rapping out of the old and new testament of truth. In the now slightly sunny morning air Isaiah and Matthew had more to say about black liberation and revolution than a department of Sociologists. Coming out of Biblical quotation and into the streets the Minister proclaimed "We must relate to the Black Warrior with smoking rifle and Molotov cocktail in his hand.

The spirit of Bobby Hutton wore a 45 on his hip. He fingered it as he heard the Minister's words and just whispered "right on."

Brother Big Man and Massai spoke briefly of their memories of Bobby and his dreams.

Big Man is huge and powerful with a great strong face and body but with a powerful gentleness about him. He up front said that Bobby Hutton who was much younger than him and still a boy in years was really twice the man he was.

Massai in Russian fur hat and glasses standing tall and straight and looking like a black Bolshevik told us that Bobby Hutton was one of an army of iron men fighting in the jungles of Vietnam and Harlem for the liberation of humanity.

The service concluded and I checked out the white wooden front on which the service was conducted. It is the slave master's mansion long since closed and decaying. But the land around it still does not belong to us, and that is why the Black Panthers exist and why Bobby Hutton was murdered.

The spirit of Bobby Hutton was glad the thing was over. He could go get some Port wine now, and drink it mixed with lemon juice. It was his favorite drink. He had to hurry to get back to the National Office because Huey and Eldridge were waiting for him. Bobby Hutton is as eternal as Che.

MOSES 3

COAK TOO UPTIGHT TO BLOW IT RIGHT!

by Stew Albert

Frank Coakley should be suffocated inside the cement wall of his own tight asshole. He had slandered the sisters and brothers who seized Moses Hall in the name of Eldridge Cleaver by claiming that Paul Glusman, Jack Bloom and Pete Camejo were primarily responsible for them being there.

Paul, Jack and Pete will be coming up Monday, May 19 (Malcolm X Day) on the same bullshit felony charge of "conspiracy to commit a misdemeanor" Coakley tried to ice the Oakland Seven on.

It is nonsense to think these three cats were magically responsible for the Moses Hall barricades. The conspirator was Governor Ronald Racist who tried to put bars on the 139X classroom of Black Panther revolution.

The support and love for Eldridge on and off the campus was overwhelming and the building liberation was a natural reflex of our humanity. Lots of people gave speeches and wrote leaflets, among them Paul and Jack and Pete who are being singled out because the power structure punk's grasping games have been exposed by these revolutionary lifers many times before.

The pigs are using Moses Hall to settle old grudges and frighten the rest of us out of creating new ones.

There is a stable so foul that even "Gas Huey" Lowell Jensen will not sleep in it. Jensen was burned in the Oakland Seven acquittal and wanted to deal the Moses Hall frameup into a misdemeanor but Coakley vetoed the plan and now Jensen refuses to prosecute the case. Frank Coakley will have to carve himself a new puppet to front for his senile inquisition.

The star witness for the prosecution is going to be Officer Bruniers, twenty-three year old Berkeley Pig who takes courses at Cal in political science, and acted as a volunteer false-faced spy. Bruniers testified at my Moses Hall bust and his version of what I and others did in the building was a million light years away from what even a charitable fool would call truth. This Judas to his generation kept his lips pursed in an ironic lie and seemed to make up his testimony as he gave it.

He will pull the same jive on the Moses Hall Three. The D.A. informed my lawyer that I was going to be indicted with them on felonious conspiracy. Only at the last courtroom minute did the pigs decide to settle for putting me away on a thirty-day misdemeanor rap. If any fink saw me within fifty feet of a 'support Eldridge' microphone on the sit-in day the slogan would be "support the Moses Hall four".

So for the infinite time we are obligated to march outside the Alameda County Courthouse we will shout loudly in defense of three brothers -- in truth it is the best of our own human selves that we will publicly declare.

We of our own free will stood against the racist chain-gang of Reagan thought control and no puny DA is going to say three evil scientists put electric wires in our brains and programmed us for revolution.

What Did We Forget?

by Stew Albert

The great march was a mixed bag of beauty, defeat, triumph and foolishness. Ronald Reagan was unable to scare us off the street. The handful of conspirators turned out to be 35,000. But somewhere in the front of the march people forgot what it was all about. They gave flowers to the pigs and changed "we love the Blue Meanies." I can barely believe it but it sounded like a lot of people were trying hard to really mean it.

The opening rally at Insurrection City was tied up in political analysis and pacifism. There was nothing to raise the courage or confidence of the people. It was difficult for most to hear what was being said and when we did it was either boring or a tactical tranquilizer. We were supposed to move in groups behind rock bands and green-helmeted monitors. The bands were good but the monitors were too few and a lot of the marchers wondered who were those people in the funny green hats?

There was something great about being in the streets with 35,000 good people, to smoke some grass and forget about the shotguns and helicopters, to dance to the groovy sounds and to realize Eldridge was right when he said there were "more people than pigs."

I was really flying until we hit Oxford and caught sight of a line of pigs with flowers in their barb wire hair. Cheers went up as if the pigs were now pointing their guns at Roger Heyns and calling us Comrade. The sadists who murdered James Rector were now okay because they took our flowers and forced their lips into a smile.

Some brothers tried shouting something angry at the pigs--but the liberals shut them up saying "We must not antagonize the police."

We reached a point of turning left in the direction of the Park. Some of the march leaders wanted to split the march, breaking from the pig-approved route and attempting to surround the park for a fence-shaking exorcism. Some of us headed down the side street but walked into a wall of pigs.

I learned later that the wall was originally built by liberals who called the pigs to replace them. These liberals are so scared of Sheriff Madigan they have him walking around in their brains barking orders.

When we got to the fence, it was very crowded and I found myself trampling on the newly-laid street sod. Someone broke concrete and planted a tree, there were flowers in the fence, and barbed wire next to the Shakespeare Book Store and plenty of camera clicking tourists. It was a very circus sight.

After awhile the pigs began to order us back to Insurrection City. They were helped by the over-cooperative medics who decided that the best way to fight the pigs is to do their job. There were a couple of arrests and some shoving, but the pigs had things under total control so they play-acted at being human.

The scene at Insurrection City was weird. It resembled a hedonic hell. There was an endless series of human circles with fires at their center. A rock group with light show blasted away but was lost in the overwhelming sounds of oil drums beaten by stoned madmen. We poured out into the streets, directing traffic and running races and shooting fiery flares into the night sky.

One guy asked me for bread to buy a lid. I told him I was broke and he gave me 52 cents.

There were people camping out in little tents, playing guitars, making love and dancing. Late at night little children played fiercely on the swings and a basketball game was proceeding with a garbage can used as the hoop.

I thought of Lincoln Park in Chicago during the Democratic Convention. The Yippie festival of life would go on to midnight then the pigs would bring a tank and nausea gas into the Park and clear us out.

Insurrection City would have been a terrible trap if the pigs moved on it but they let it run its course, figuring it would be a good way to turn our sleepless neighbors against us. One woman who called the police to complain about the noise was told, "Well, you support the People's Park, don't you?"

In the last few days the leaders of the Park committee have been on a down trip about the March. They feel our lack of militant organization let the liberals cop out. The fence is still up and a lot of marchers went home happy, thinking a pleasant walk in the sun was a major accomplishment. We got hung up in bringing large numbers to Berkeley and forgot the reason we wanted them was to force Reagan to take the fence down or to rip it off ourselves. I don't think we could have taken the whole fence down but given our protective numbers we could have announced our eventual intentions by cutting up a huge chunk of it.

There is a lot of madness going down about learning to love a cop. Some people felt that the non-violent march and the pigs taking flowers was a sign of communication. The only thing you communicate to a pig when you give him a flower is your weakness. The only thing Ronald Reagan understands is your willingness to make him pay a price for his dictatorship. A real battle for the Park would be costly for both sides. But the Park is worth the fight. It was so beautiful, giving us the chance to come out of our mind closets into a community of creators.

The liberals say a mere piece of land isn't worth risking violence. It isn't just a block of land Reagan has taken from us. He has confiscated the best of our humanity and surrounded it with a fence of fascism.

PANTHERS NOT MERGING

by Stew Albert

There is a bit of misinformation about the Black Panthers that went out as an AP dispatch and now in many parts of the country is quoted as fact. The pigs claim to have secret information on this subject.

Somehow the Press was told the Panthers, SDS and other revolutionary groups were going to merge and a new party would come into existence. According to this report the Black Panthers would drop their name and something called the American Liberation Party would come into existence.

This is completely untrue.

The Black Panthers have no plans at this time to disband as a Party. It may happen sometime in the future when the white revolutionary movement is strong enough to make the merger worth the Panthers' while. What the Panthers seek to achieve at the anti-fascist conference beginning July 18 in Oakland is to unite the left in a common struggle against the Fascist police.

The Black Panthers will call on the left to circulate a petition throughout the country demanding community control of Police. The Conference will relate to the emerging American Fascism from many angles including a theoretical understanding, but the main concentration will be on the pig control petition.

The Conference is not going to ask any group to disband, give up their separate identity or drop their own programs. What the Black Panther Party is struggling for, is to make the white left realize that the shit that is coming down on the Panthers will in a very short time be on all our shoulders.

To realize this is to see the need for a United Front in which each group does its own thing, but on the question of fascism whites on a common strategy that not only stops the new Nazis, but moves our revolution forward so that fascism will become a library shelf relic.

SAFEWAY NOT SO

by Stew Albert

The Safeway store at 29th and West in Oakland was open but it was as empty as a tasteless loaf of white bread. The Black Panther boycott was a 99% success.

For the past few weeks Panther members, community people, white friends and the breakfast kids have been surrounding Safeway and persuading customers to shop down the block.

It all started when the Safeway Manager refused to kick in a hundred bucks a month for the Breakfast for Children Program. A lot of the stores in the area came through with contributions, including the Co-op, but Safeway figured the kids could survive on a glass of water every morning.

The Black Panthers called for a boycott and are now taxing Safeway an additional $25 each week they want to play Scrooge.

The Panthers have been relying on revolutionary persuasion to keep the store empty. A car pulls up in front of the door and the people shout, "Don't give your money to pigs who won't feed our children."

Usually the customer drives on but sometimes people hop out of their car for more information. When the Panthers fill them in they almost always take their dollars elsewhere.

It's fun to walk on the line chanting "Power to the Children" and "Free Huey." The little kids are really turned on to the Panthers. They have no trouble discriminating between businessmen who cheat their parents and revolutionaries who give them double portions of potatoes with their free breakfasts. The kids would rip the store to shreds if the Panthers okayed it but the Party figures that a lot of the grownups aren't ready.

"This is a program in practical socialism," Bobby Seale rapped when the Panthers first started serving free breakfast at St. Augustine Church which is across the street from Safeway. "We will send down our ugliest Panthers to dish out the food and the kids will learn to expect getting what they want for free." He went on, "When they get older they will see this is impossible under capitalism and join us."

The kids on the picket line did not have to grow up to find out about capitalism. A store that grosses $50,000 a week cannot find a $100 bucks a month in its back pocket for the kids.

The boycott continues every day starting at 10 o'clock. Call the Panther office for further information. Everyone is invited to join the line.

If Safeway hangs cheap the boycott will spread to all their stores and a bankrupted tight-assed Safeway may follow Lyndon Johnson into a forgotten memory.

REFUGEE'S VIEW OF SDS MADNESS

by Stew Albert

Brothers and Sisters coming back from the SDS convention paint a surrealistic picture of insanity and hope.

The scenes on the Convention floor were out of a reactionary newspaper cartoon satirizing the New Left. The PL and anti-PL factions waved fists and red books at each other and drowned out rival speeches by shouting Mao mao tse tung (PL) and Ho Ho Chi Minh (anti-PL). The rivals came at times to moderate blows but usually the fights were orally fixated.

The source of this mad hell was PL's belief that their enemies were going to stack the convention. PL responded by bringing every body they could to the meeting. It turned out to be paranoia and PL had a heavily disproportionate representation.

This was too much for their rival factions who walked out, set up their own meetings and expelled PL for not supporting the Black Panthers or the National Liberation Front. A faction fight then broke out in the newly purged SDS between one group which hates PL but has similar attitudes and a really different group known as the Revolutionary Youth Movement. The RYM won out and elected its people to the National SDS office.

The RYM wants to organize all fucked over sections of American Youth from the working class to the upper middle class drop out. They are struggling to develop a language that people will actually understand.

If this all sounds like madness, most of it is. "If the ruling class wanted to destroy SDS they would televise their convention for free at prime time; every one watching would be bored," Jerry Rubin rapped in Chicago, and then went home after one day.

I think that despite everything the movement has some reason to be hopeful. The best faction in SDS won out and now that PL won't be around maybe they will spend their time dealing with America and not engage in Mao'er than thou Asian polemics.

IS JONES JIVING?

by Stew Albert

Tommy Jones and his friends, are jiving and they know it. This crap only helps the pigs.

It's pure bullshit for them to say that if Eldridge were here they would not be kicked out of the Party. When Bill Brent was busted for a dumb and dangerous holdup, he was busted out of the Party and attacked by Eldridge.

In one of the last talks I had with him Cleaver rapped that the "Stupid revolution" was over. The stupid revolution included Panther Party members who would not accept revolutionary discipline.

A lot of the early Party members felt they had a privileged position, refusing to go to political classes or carry out any assignments. Eldridge told me that these dudes must either reform or get kicked out. He felt that a purge was necessary to save the party from pig destruction.

Jones thinks Huey is on his side. But when Huey was on the streets he once expelled everyone in the party except Bobby Seale. He let them back only when they agreed to accept Party discipline.

One falsehood that has to be nailed is the claim that Bobby Seale spent the people's money in Europe. The truth is that the bread was put up by Swedish radicals and didn't cost the Panthers two bits.

Our street revolution should check out Eldridge's rap on the "stupid revolution". The time for hoping the revolution will happen by itself is over. We need a program and a strategy and tactics to bring it off. I am sick of the pigs laughing up their asses at our dumbness and lack of skill. We must learn to fight and think. In this struggle we may even have to read a book.

The renegades boast about the fact that they refuse to read books. Eldridge Cleaver read Das Kapital in San Quentin and about everything else in the library. Huey knows Fanon by heart and read Deustcher's biography of Trotsky in Vacaville. To hope for a defense of political illiteracy from Huey and Eldridge is to expect a library to turn into a television set.

FREEING HUEY

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT

by Stew Albert

Huey Newton has a good chance of getting out on bail if ten thousand people show up at the Federal Building at 10 AM on May 1st. There is going to be a bail hearing conducted by Judge Alfonso Zirpoli and for once the state is on the defensive.

Federal Judge Zirpoli has slapped the DAs office with a "show cause" order as to why Huey Newton should not be granted his constitutional right to bail.

The long hard battle of the Black Panther Party and lawyer Charles R. Garry may be on the verge of at least partial victory.

"It is absolutely crucial that between 10 and 20 thousand people show up outside the Federal building during the hearing" Chairman Bobby Seale rapped passionately to the BARB.

"We have got to show Judge Zirpoli that there is massive community support for giving Huey Newton information of the Black Panthers, and the Parole Punks realized this cat was a million times more than a new jiving black intellectual who wrote a best-selling guilt book.

David Hilliard is the number four man in the Black Panther Party. He has been hanging out with Huey since they were kids in the sixth grade. When Huey founded the Panthers he talked David into being Secretary of the Party. Hilliard is a self-taught very tough ex-longshoreman whose most import dictionary, read all the time and memorized, is Huey P. Newton.

The strength of Huey's inspiration is the truth of the Party's survival and growth under pigs guns and Newton trapped in prison. A political leader's greatness is not found in the number of men who will ever so dumbly take or-

"ball," Seale went on. "A huge rally will counter the racist pressure to keep Huey in."

The rally will go on for several hours, featuring Panthers Kathleen Cleaver, Bobby Seale and David Hilliard, as well as Willy Brown, Ron Dellums, Charles R. Garry, Tom Hayden, and spokesmen from the Mexican and Chinese community. There will be various kind of entertainment.

"People at the rally should sit and do what they want," Seale stated. "We will have speakers in every corner and an open microphone," Bobby continued. "If the Pigs mess with the rally the Panthers will mess with the Pigs."

Eldridge had dreamed of the black man floating around his cell with a gun in hand and calling on the prisoners of Folsom and Harlem to blast their manhood into the pag-ders from his ego but in the brothers and sisters he breathes to life who think with their own minds and create the revolution when he is not around. Huey's greatness can not be locked up in San Luis Obispo, it serves one thousand free breakfasts for children every morning and pulls the trigger when the Black Liberation Army takes target practice.

I once spent three hours rapping with Huey in the visitor's cell of the Alameda County Courthouse. It was hard for me not to leap out of my skin with joy at just being with him. I could not believe that this man who passed out candy to his guests and seemed all gentle was the man who pounded the fear of decency into all the patrol cars of Oakland.

Huey Newton understood the shit I was running down to him about the young white cultural revolution almost before the words were out of my mouth. He dug it all but with upfront criticism. Huey thinks we have to develop a program and organization that can pull our trip together without drowning it. He thought the Yippies were wild and beautiful but could they take care of themselves in the fascist shit storm brewing in the White House toilet?

thers are under orders to defend it."

"We have a precedent," Bobby concluded, "Judge Sherwin released Eldridge Cleaver on bail and if we have a huge mind-blowing turnout at the rally I think we can get Huey out."

The thought that Huey might be making the West Oakland scene again seems five hundred miles ahead of any hope that ever seemed possible. It's almost as if Newton's first name was "Free Huey" and jail the only environment that reality would allow him to live in.

Huey Newton is a giant who turns other men into giants. He founded the Black Panther Party as one man and recruited Bobby Seale to his side. Bobby was an actor, a guy on the stage playing parts. Huey told Bobby to get off the stage and live the life of his revolutionary dreams.

Eldridge Celaver met Huey gun on hip at Ramparts magazine. Huey and the Panthers were guarding the widow of Malcolm X visiting San Francisco. When a pig fat-mouthed the Panthers, Huey told him to put his gun where his mouth was or shut up. The Pig tried to back off gracefully but he only oinked like the court jester of Animal Farm.

Kathleen Cleaver likes to rap about Huey's restless and enormous energy, about how you always knew Huey was coming by the speed noise of his footsteps. He could go from trip to trip at top speed and with a few words bring the brothers along.

Her memory goes back to Huey reading "Soul On Ice" and writing a five-page letter of appreciation to the author. Eldridge and Huey took turn blowing each other's minds. Each is the other man's Bible of revolutionary integrity.

I remember the night Eldridge showed up at my door with a dozen Huey posters. This was the night they came off the press and I put one up on the wall and tried to give them away to my friends. Their reaction was almost universal derision. They made fun of the Panthers' using government and military titles and quipped that Huey was probably masturbating with his gun.

Six months later all these guys were wearing "Free Huey" buttons and marching outside the courthouse. It would be the height of petty cruelty to remind them of their earlier arrogance. Huey Newton has changed more heads than the prison walls will ever allow to imagine.

Huey P. Newton's greatness is that he took the best thoughts of the greatest minds the century has known and summed it up in a law book, a shot gun and a ten-point program. He fused what there is to know with what is to be done. This is why the Ruling Monsters of Money are so freaked with the thought that Huey might be set free on May Day. They know their power is based on the ignorant darkness their overtime factories produce and TV hustles as happiness. They know Huey is a generator; the purest light of freedom our generation has produced.

We have worn buttons and marched on picket lines -- now we have a real chance of freeing Huey. We must be outside the Federal Building, twenty thousand strong, on May First.

May Day has always been the day on which the revolutionary people of the world celebrated their struggle for Freedom. On this May Day a struggle will be fought to free the greatest living American Revolutionary, Huey P. Newton. We can help win this victory simply by standing outside the Federal Building and letting Judge Zirpofi know what power to the people really means.

REVOLUTIONARY UNION,
ALSO KNOWN AS
RED UNION, BAY AREA
REVOLUTIONARY UNION.

In September, 1968, a source advised that the Revolutionary Union, commonly known to its membership as the Red Union (RU), was formed in early 1968 as a covert, revolutionary, Marxist-Leninist organization ideologically oriented toward Communist China, which it views as the model of the correct revolutionary Marxist-Leninist line as developed through MAO Tse-tung. The RU advocates the necessity of violent revolution and open guerrilla warfare to overthrow the existing political system in the United States and effect radical changes in this nation, and some members are collecting firearms, explosives, and other weapons and have engaged in guerrilla warfare and firearms training. In the San Francisco Bay Area, the RU consists of three locals, one each in San Francisco, the East Bay, and the Peninsula.

In April, 1969, a second source advised that the RU partially surfaced during that month through advertisements in select "New Left" periodicals, identifying three members of the Executive Committee as public spokesmen and offering for sale select writings of the RU, including a "Statement of Principles," in the form of "The Red Papers." With the exception of the three publicly identified spokesmen, the general membership of the RU will remain covert; however, individual members are free to reveal their RU membership to close political associates as the necessities of political effectiveness dictate.

The RU's published "Statement of Principles" calls for the smashing of the existing state apparatus by the United States working class and the establishment of communism and the dictatorship of the proletariat; recognizes the necessity of violent revolution and organized armed struggle to achieve those ends and calls for the creation of a revolutionary party based upon Marxism-Leninism as developed through MAO Tse-tung.

~~SECRET~~~~CONFIDENTIAL~~STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students For A Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. [redacted] in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa, and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam, and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the world-wide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" reflects the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.
